

Process

A tonal mosaic

Over a long study, it is a good habit to clearly establish your tonal shapes before building up values, moving on to tone once you are confident in your observations of the contours of the figure and the surrounding negative spaces. If any shape in your drawing fails to match the shape you see in front of you, whether it is a shape of light, dark or mid tone in the figure, or a negative space around the figure, then you know there is a fault in the shapes that surround it and you must go back and look at them again. The drawing can be left at a lower stage as a study of tonal shapes, or it can be elaborated upon with tone and rendered in an illusory form of detail.

STEP 1 - Lightly establish the contours.

STEP 2 - Create a mosaic of tonal shapes across the figure.

STEP 3 - Build up light and tones across the figure.

REAL ILLUSION ROUGH REPLICATION OF TONAL SHAPES

In order to put this process into practice, you will require your model to hold a horizontal pose over a number of settings. It is then, consistent, directional light, with a contrasting background that provides clearly defined negative spaces. At its best, the process provides effective training for the eye, giving you time to make repeated comparisons between your model and the working drawing.

STEP 4 - Build up mid tones across the figure.

STEP 5 - Building dark mid tones across the figure.

STEP 6 - Add defined darks and areas for lightest lights.
