

Connecting the Device to a Network

The SSG 5 devices provide firewall and general security for networks when it is placed between internal networks and the untrusted network. This section describes the physical connections.

Connect an SSG 5 Device to an Untrusted Network

You can connect your SSG 5 device to the untrusted network in one of the following ways:

- Connecting Ethernet Ports
- Connecting Serial (AUX/Console) Ports
- Connecting the WAN Ports

Connecting Ethernet Ports

To establish a high-speed connection, connect the provided Ethernet cable from the Ethernet port marked 0/0 on an SSG 5 device to the external router. This Ethernet port (0/0) is assigned to the ethernet0/0 interface, which is by default bound to the Untrust security zone. The device autosenses the correct speed, duplex, and MDI/MDIX settings.

Connecting Serial (AUX/Console) Ports

You can connect to the untrusted network with an RJ-45 straight through serial cable and external modem.

WARNING: Make sure that you do not inadvertently connect the Console, AUX, or Ethernet ports on the device to the telephone outlet.

Connecting the WAN Ports

1. Have ready a length of the type of cable used by the interface.
2. Insert the cable connector into the cable-connector port on the device.
3. Arrange the cable as follows to prevent it from dislodging or developing stress points:
 - a. Secure the cable so that it is not supporting its own weight as it hangs to the floor.
 - b. Place any excess cable out of the way in a neatly coiled loop.
 - c. Use fasteners to maintain the shape of the cable loops.
