Don't be embarrassed you're not alone. Women buy half of the nation's new cars every year yet studies show they end up paying up to 40 percent more than their male counterparts. At work they earn 77 cents for every male dollar. And when they get home, married women do far more than their fair share of the household chores. It's not surprising that so many of us are lousy negotiators. From the time we're tiny we're encouraged to please others and deny our own needs. But the good news for good girls is that many of us already possess an arsenal of undiscovered negotiating skills. We're great listeners, keen observers of nonverbal cues, and experts at putting ourselves in the other person's shoes. Notes for Negotiating Now will help you put those extraordinary gifts to work and equip you with the self-confidence, knowledge, and skills to succeed. It's Not You, It's the Workplace Andrea S. Kramer, Alton B. Harris, 2019-08-27 Silver award winner in Women Minorities in Business category 2020 Axiom Business Book Awards. It's not you, it's the workplace offers a fresh approach to understanding why women's relationships with other women at work are often fraught and when they are have the potential to completely derail women's careers. It's a pervasive and complicated issue which until now has been falsely represented by books that paint women as inherently bitchy backstabbers who cannot help but have challenging relationships with other women. As the authors prove this is patently untrue. Immensely practical, the book features real world advice and tactics to overcome and avoid workplace conflict and most importantly build on the positive aspects of women to women relationships, developing stronger networks that foster women's career success and creating a more supportive and satisfying work environment.
