

INTRODUCTION

The syllabus of IGCSE Mathematics has both core and extended curriculum. The Scheme of work for both core and extended curriculum was prepared by the Scheme of work Committee consisting of 12 secondary Mathematics teachers. The Scheme of work is only a guide line for teachers who will be teaching IGCSE Mathematics in the schools. Teachers can adjust the time frame to suit their own students' working pace. Teachers can make adjustment in the sequence of the topics to suit their teaching. This Scheme of work is prepared for students who will follow the Core Curriculum only. There are two sets of Scheme of work. One set is to be completed in 2 years and the other set is to be completed in 3 years.

Students who follow the 2 years Scheme of Work will sit for their exam in the year 2011. They are students who have passed their PMB for the year 2009 but failed in Mathematics. They can be channelled to do Core Mathematics 2 years. This group of students have covered most of the IGCSE syllabus in Menengah I, II and III. The topics which are new to them are: Locus, Vectors and Probability. In Statistics, they have not studied Scatter diagrams and the meaning of positive, negative and zero correlation. Enlargement is not included in the PMB syllabus for Transformation. This Scheme of Work focus on enhancing their previous knowledge as well as introducing the new topics. The suggested activities for teachers and students will make their teaching and learning more related to real life situation. The suggested websites enable the teachers to get extra exposure besides the textbooks and reference books.

The Scheme of work for 3 years is prepared for Year 9 students who are following the Applied Program. This group of students will sit for the IGCSE exam in 2012. Most topics in the IGCSE syllabus have been covered in year 7 & 8. The topics which they did not do in Year 7 & 8 are: Congruency and Similarity, Symmetrical and Angle Properties in a circle, Transformation, Locus, Probability, Vector, Scatter Graph and the meaning of positive, negative and zero correlation. Therefore, this Scheme of work will enable them to have better understanding of the Mathematics concepts. The suggested activities also provide enough practice for the students in applying their understanding of the concept. It will also help them to develop Mathematics skills which will be very useful in everyday life.

Students following the core curriculum will be sitting for two written papers: Paper 1 and Paper 3. Paper 1 is short-answer questions whereas, Paper 3 is structured questions. The use of scientific calculator is allowed in both papers. Paper 1 consists of 35% of the total marks and Paper 3 is 65%. Students are eligible for the award of grades C to G only.
