Cox, 2025-04-09 Taking a holistic approach Neil Thompson and Gerry R Cox propose a rich variety of methods for teaching death grief and bereavement Recognizing the sensitivity and complexity of these issues the authors have developed this guide to help teachers in higher and further education provide high quality teaching and training around death and mortality dying and end of life care and grief and bereavement Supporting the Student Journey into Higher Education Wendy Garnham, Nina Walker, 2024-03-08 This book will provide an in depth look at the development functionality and appeal of pre arrival platforms to aid transition into higher education including a range of provisions Ensuring a smooth transition into higher education study is increasingly seen as key to both retention and success both in the initial weeks of study and beyond Pre arrival platforms offer students a range of opportunities which might include the chance to familiarise themselves with the practices and policies of their new institution before teaching begins This book will explore these platforms from three different angles their development use and appeal to diverse audiences in higher education and case studies illustrating their incorporation into practice It will provide a comprehensive overview of not only the different ways in which such platforms add value to the transition process but also the way they embrace diversity and widening participation in higher education from the very beginning of an individual's higher education career. With chapters written by individuals from a variety of roles in higher education, this text will also provide the reader an insight into issues arising from the use of these platforms. It will be essential reading for educational, academic, and staff developers working with departments and their institutions to develop their support structure for new students, as well as for those directly involved in widening access participation programmes.

Mastering the Art of Public Speaking Michael J. Gelb, 2020-09-08. Seventy-four percent of Americans suffer from glossophobia, the fear of public speaking. In fact, even top professional speakers and accomplished actors experience butterflies before presenting. They never eliminate the butterflies; they just teach them how to fly in formation. How Michael Gelb's techniques will help you clarify and shape your message so that your audience, no matter how big or small, in person or virtual, will care about it. Once the message is clear, he teaches you how to convey it in memorable, creative, and effective ways. Gelb shows that public speaking is a skill anyone can learn and enjoy. Mastering the Art of Public Speaking will guide you to rediscover your natural gift for communication while strengthening confidence and presence.

Sigurd Bergmann, Kate Rigby, Peter Manley Scott, 2023-05-31. This timely collection of essays by leading international scholars across religious studies and the environmental humanities advances a lively discussion on materialism in its many forms. While there is little agreement on what materialism means, it is evident that there is a resurgence in thinking about matter in more animated and active ways. The volume explores how debates concerning the new materialisms impinge on religious traditions and the extent to which religions with their material culture and beliefs in the Divine within the material can make a creative contribution to debates about ecological materialisms. Spanning a broad range of themes including politics, architecture, hermeneutics, literature, and religion, the book brings together a series of discussions on materialism in the context of diverse methodologies and approaches. The volume investigates a range of issues including space and place, hierarchy and relationality, the relationship between nature and society, human and other agencies, and worldviews and cultural values. Drawing on literary and critical theory and queer philosophical, theological, and social theoretical approaches, this ground-breaking book will make an important contribution to the environmental humanities. It will be a key read for postgraduate students, researchers, and scholars in religious studies, cultural anthropology, literary studies, philosophy, and environmental studies. Books in Print, 1991. Who's who in
