

WHAT IS STOCK FRAUD

It is a violation of securities laws that are in place to protect investors and markets.

Stock fraud is a deceptive practice in the stock or securities markets that encourages investors to buy or sell based on false information, resulting in losses.

This fraudster can be an individual such as a stockbroker or an organization, such as a brokerage firm, corporation, or investment bank.

TYPES OF STOCK FRAUD

CORPORATE FRAUD

Many corporations may be created by founders to obtain the status of being an existing corporation with a similar name. Founders then sell shares in the new corporation by misleading the investor into thinking that they are buying shares in the real corporation.

GOOD STOCK!

GOOD STOCK!

SELL

PUMP AND DUMP

The Pump and Dump fraudster disseminates information to spread in the stock market in order to attract smaller investors. The purpose is to increase the price of the stock dramatically.

The Dump

When the price reaches a certain level, criminals immediately sell off their holdings of the stock, making substantial profits. Any buyers of the stock who are unaware of the fraud become victims once the price falls.

BAD STOCK!

SHORT AND DISTORT

Internet investors short sell a stock (which is rented or borrowed) and then spread negative rumors to drive the price down. Naked Short Selling is when a stock is sold without being borrowed and without any intent to borrow.

PRIME BANK

Prime bank programs often claim investors' funds will be used to purchase and trade "Prime Bank" instruments in order to "hedge" gains. Unfortunately, these prime bank instruments never actually trade, leaving investors with all of their money.

FOILER FOOTS

These are stock brokerages that put undue emphasis on their "foiler" services. Securities sold in boiler rooms include corporate stock, IPOs, private equity, as well as microcap stocks, non-existent or distressed stocks, and stock sold by an intermediary at an undisclosed markup.

BUY

INSIDER TRADING

There are two types of insider trading. The first is the trading of a corporation's stock or other security by corporate insiders such as CFOs, CEOs, directors, officers, or holders of more than ten percent of the firm's shares. The second type of insider trading is the trading of material non-public information. This type of trading is illegal in most instances.

PONZI SCHEME

A type of pyramid scheme, this is where money from new investors is used to provide returns to previous investors. The scheme collapses when money owed to investors is not paid for by new investors.

Actual

Manipulated

ACCOUNTING FRAUD

Management intentionally manipulates accounting entries or accounting estimates to misstate financial statements. It also involves missing or misdirecting funds, over-inflating the value of corporate assets or understating the existence of liabilities.

TELL-TALE SIGNS OF A FRAUD

Don't be Fooled by "Special Offers" - They are "Remarkably" created.

PRESSURE TO SEND MONEY NOW - Scam artists often tell their victims that this is a once-in-a-lifetime offer and that it will be gone tomorrow.

"GUARANTEED RETURNS" ALERT - Beware! Guaranteed returns are "guaranteed" or "can't miss." Don't believe it!

IF IT SOUNDS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE, IT IS. - Beware! Guaranteed returns you'll get substantially more could be "BIRD DOG" AND, that means you might lose money.

HOW TO AVOID BEING SCAMMED

Take the time to do your own independent research.

Fully understand the company's business and its products or services before investing.

Spend some time researching the company and the investment before you invest.

Use the SEC's resources to review the financial statements of companies and disclose if you are of brokers and advisors.
