Learning Strategies in Engineering Mathematics Birgit Griese, 2017-02-28 Birgit Griese presents MP2 Math Plus a support project for first year students in engineering at Ruhr University Bochum that aims at preventing unnecessary drop out. Conceptualisation and development of the project follow a design research approach according to Gravemeijer Cobb and van den Akker. The interventions focus on learning strategies which are collected in a pre-post design with the aid of the LIST questionnaire by Wild and Schiefele. These and other data are utilised for the evaluation of MP2 Math Plus. The results confirm the adaptations of the project procedures in successive cycles stress the importance of effort and motivation and assess the success of the project.

Mathematical Intelligence Junaid Mubeen, 2022-06-02 There's so much talk about the threat posed by intelligent machines that it sometimes seems as though we should surrender to our robot overlords. But Junaid Mubeen isn't ready to throw in the towel just yet. As far as he is concerned we have the creative edge over machines because of a remarkable system of thought that humans have developed over the millennia. It's familiar to us all but often badly taught in schools and misrepresented in popular discourse. Maths. Computers are of course brilliant at totting up sums, pattern seeking and performing mindless tasks of well computation. For all things calculation machines reign supreme. But Junaid identifies seven areas of intelligence where humans can retain a crucial edge. And in exploring these areas he opens up a fascinating world where we can develop our uniquely human mathematical superpowers.

Educational Entrepreneurship Today Frederick M. Hess, Michael Q. McShane, 2021-03-04 In Educational Entrepreneurship Today Frederick M. Hess and Michael Q. McShane assemble a diverse lineup of high profile contributors to examine the contexts in which new initiatives in education are taking shape. They inquire into the impact of entrepreneurship on the larger field including the development and deployment of new technologies and analyze the incentives, barriers, opportunities and tensions that support or constrain innovation. Over the past decade entrepreneurship has moved from the periphery to the center of education reform. Policy measures, philanthropic support and venture capital increasingly promote initiatives that drive innovation within and outside the traditional education sector. These initiatives have included spectacular successes like Khan Academy, Teach For America and Wireless Generation as well as highly visible failures like the InBloom data warehouse. Educational Entrepreneurship Today offers critical perspectives on the impact of entrepreneurship and also includes lessons from leading entrepreneurs in which they use case studies drawn from their own experience to illustrate the realities of leading disruptive change in education and pose guiding questions for the next generation of innovators. In a time of increasing polarization around education policy, this timely, frank and insightful volume shows how we can begin to create systems in which entrepreneurial ideas and fresh thinking are welcomed, constructively employed and held accountable for the public good.

Branding Authoritarian Nations Petra Alderman, 2023-07-28 Branding Authoritarian Nations offers a novel approach to the study of nation branding as a strategy for political legitimation in authoritarian regimes using the example of military ruled Thailand The book argues that nation branding is a political act that is integral to state legitimation processes particularly in the context of authoritarian regimes It applies its alternative reading of nation branding to eight different sectors tourism economy foreign direct investment foreign policy education culture public relations and the private sector The author explains that nation branding produces specific kinds of applied national myths referred to as strategic national myths She shows that nation branding is an inherently inward looking strategy aimed at shaping the social attitudes and behaviours of the nation s citizens in line with the government s domestic agenda and legitimation needs Providing the first comprehensive analysis of nation branding in Thailand and the first book length account of the country s political developments since the 2014 2019 military rule the book is primarily aimed at academics in the disciplines of politics international relations communication and area studies as well as business cultural and intercultural studies attempts to identify specific mechanisms most likely to be modulated by multilingual experience For example there is a tendency in academic literature to treat executive function as an essentially unitary fronto parietal system recruited in response to all manner of cognitive demand yet performance across so called executive function tasks is highly variable and intercorrelations are sometimes low It may be the case that some higher level mechanisms of executive function remain relatively unaffected while others are more sensitive to multilingual experience and that there may be disadvantages as well as advantages which themselves may be sensitive to factors such as age In our view there is an urgent need to take a more fine grained approach to this issue so that the strength and direction of changes in diverse cognitive abilities associated with multilanguage acquisition can be better understood This book compiles work from psychologists and neuroscientists who actively research whether how and the extent to which multilanguage acquisition promotes enhanced cognition or protects against age related cognitive or neurological deterioration We hope this collection encourages future efforts to drive theoretical progress well beyond the highly simplistic issue of whether the bilingual cognitive advantage is real or spurious
