Six-band Vertical Antenna

CP-6S

Operation Instructions

● Description

- 1 The CP6S is a six-band vertical antenna for HF band.
- 2 Compact, light weight and very easy to assemble.
- 3 It is completely self supported and does not need any guy wires.
- 4 Trap radiats could be concentrated on one direction instead of spreading them around the antenna. This is especially convenient if the antenna is installed on balcony railing or window side of condominiums and urban apartments.
- 5 Since the antenna is direct D-C ground at the feed point, coaxial cable and transceiver are being protected from the high voltage caused by lightning.
- 6 Center frequencies of the antenna are adjustable in each band simply by change the length of each radial element.
- 7 Top loading structure utilizing capacitive hat enables the antenna to complete with full quarter wave length antennas in its performance.
- 8 It is rigid and rugged enough to withstand the wind pressure over 90MPH.
- 9 Mast brackets area adjustable to accept 1.16" to 2.16" diameter mast.
- 10 Feed point section is kept waterproof by covering it with support pipe.
- 11 New band plan on 40m and 10m FM band compatible.

-Note-

◀Installing the antenna▶

- 1 Don't install on a rainy or windy day since it is dangerous.
- 2 Don't attempt to install the antenna only by yourself. Installing the antenna alone on the roof may lead you dangerous accident. Always ask your friends for help installing the antenna.
- 3 Don't drop the antenna, tools and attachment when installing the antenna in the height. Install the antenna before assembling it on the ground.

◀Antenna location▶

- 1 If the CP6S is located on the roof of a house or top of a building, look around the roof to see if there are any obstacles such as an electronic wire or TV antenna. The CP6S has to be located as far away as possible from those things to obtain its maximum performance. Installing the antenna too close to the building wall may cause bad effect for electrical characteristics of the antenna.

- 2 Don't install the antenna where is easily reachable by people.
- 3 Install the antenna firmly not to fall down due to the strong wind. Even if falling down the antenna, locate the antenna at the safe place where people and building are not inflicted injury.

◀Before transmitting▶

- 1 Transmit after confirming if the antenna works normally by an SWR meter. If VSWR is less than 1.5, it is no problem. If VSWR is higher, stop transmitting and check if the parts of the antenna and coaxial cable are connected. If there are tall buildings or obstacles or the distance between the antenna and the ground is short, VSWR may not be lowered.
- 2 Diamond Antenna SWR/UP-DW/R meter is an insertion type being connected between a transmitter and an antenna. Transmitting power and SWR can be measured with very simple operations. In addition with those conventional measurement, PEP (peak envelope power) on SSB mode can be measured with a PEP monitor function. With our Diamond's wideband and low insertion loss directional coupler those measurements can be performed with minimum effect in transmission line.

◀During transmitting▶

- 1 Touching the antenna during transmission may cause to electricity. Pay attention not to touch the antenna, especially for children if installing on a balcony railing.

◀Rumbling Thunder▶

- 1 The thunder seems to rumble in the vicinity, don't touch the antenna and coaxial.
- When you don't use the radio, take off the cable from the radio.

◀If there is something wrong, stop transmitting immediately▶

- 1 Keeping transmitting with high VSWR may cause the radio to be damaged. Stop transmitting immediately and check the following matters. If it doesn't solve the problem, please ask the dealer or Diamond Antenna Corporation.

[Condition: If the antenna doesn't seem to receive well or propagate well]

Check 1: Is the antenna too close to the building wall? If the obstacles are too close to antenna, VSWR is higher and the radiation pattern is disturbed. Please install the antenna from the building as far away as possible.

Check 2: Did you assemble the antenna correctly? Please read the instruction again and reconfirm the assembly.

Check 3: Is the coaxial cable something wrong? Please check if soldering the connector is okay and the wire breaks by the voltmeter.

● Antenna location

Resonance frequency of HF antenna can change based on location. Antenna should be mounted away from tree, building and other antennas.

- 1 If the CP6S is located on the roof of a house or top of a building, look around the roof to see if there are any obstacles such as TV antenna or water reservation tank. The CP6S has to be located as far away as possible from those things to obtain its maximum performance.
- 2 If the CP6S is installed on a balcony railing, installing the antenna too close to the building wall may cause bad effect for electrical characteristics of the antenna. Locate at least 2m to 5m (7' to 16') away from the building wall depending on structure of the building.
