Literature Paper 2 June 2014 Question:

The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole

Male Suicide and Masculinity in 19th-century Britain Lyndsay Galpin, 2022-04-07 This book shows how interpretations of suicidal motives were guided by gendered expectations of behaviour and that these expectations were constructed to create meaning and understanding for family friends and witnesses Providing an insight into how people of this era understood suicidal behaviour and motives it challenges the assertion that suicide was seen as a distinctly feminine act and that men who took their own lives were feminized as a result Instead it shows that masculinity was understood in a more nuanced way than gender binaries allow and that a man's masculinity was measured against other men Focusing on four common narrative types the love suicide the unemployed suicide the suicide of the fraudster or speculator and the suicide of the dishonoured soldier it provides historical context to modern discussions about the crisis of masculinity and rising male suicide rates It reveals that narratives around male suicides are not so different today as they were then and that our modern model of masculinity can be traced back to the 19th century
