

Three Players, One Base Drill - Ball to Shortstop, Left Fielder Backing Up

This is one in a series of drills involving the pitcher and the two infielders on the same side of the infield. It trains those three players to fulfill their defensive responsibilities on a ground ball in the infield. The same drill can be run with the ball being delivered to the Shortstop or third baseman. When delivering the ball to the third baseman, roll it to a point that draws the third baseman 20' from the base. This makes it clear that the base needs to be covered by another player, while also giving the Third Baseman ample distance to run towards the bag when initiating an underhand toss. Deliver the ball to the pitcher at a point midway between the rubber and the foul line. (An outfielder can be included in the drill; the drill can be run without an outfielder.)

In a game situation we want all players to approach each play with the initial mindset of, "I am getting the ball", making an aggressive move towards the ball when it comes off the bat.

For the drill, we tell the players in advance who the ball is going to; the other players, when the ball is delivered by the coach, immediately sprint to fulfill their defensive responsibilities.

TEACH:

- Three defensive responsibilities:
  - Ball
  - Base
  - Back-up
- Baseball is a 'sprinting game'. The players not fielding the ball sprint full speed to fulfill their defensive responsibilities.

OBJECTIVES:

The pitcher understands when a ball is hit in the infield and they don't field the ball or cover a base, they get into position to back-up as fast as possible. This requires them to get into foul territory asap, by sprinting.

The left fielder learns that on a ground ball hit to an infielder in front of them (3b or SS), their responsibility is to go after the BALL. In this drill the ball will be fielded by the infielder. In a game situation, many of these balls will get through the infield.

DRILL:

Coach rolls a ground ball to the shortstop. Instructs the Pitcher to NOT field the ball.

Shortstop - fields the ball and holds it.

Third Baseman - covers the base "with your eyes"

Pitcher - sprint toward third, see the base is covered, break into foul ground as far beyond the base as there is room, up to 20' - 25'.

Left Fielder - sprint to the ball. End up a couple of steps behind the shortstop.

First, confirm the P, LF and 3b have moved to where they are needed to fulfill their base coverage and backing up responsibilities; and the third baseman is on the same side of the base as the shortstop fielding the ball; in a Ready Position...

...then instruct the Shortstop to create an underhand toss to the third baseman; using proper underhand toss technique.

Note: Once the players learn to really sprint to fulfill their responsibilities when not fielding the ball, and demonstrate they consistently position themselves correctly at a base to take a throw, the drill can be run without having the player fielding the ball waiting for the coaches OK to go ahead and make a toss to the base.

The drill can then run at game speed with the player fielding the ball immediately transitioning to running towards the base and make an underhand toss.

There will be times where the player fielding the ball is prepared to throw before the player at the base is in position to receive a throw.

When this occurs, the player with the ball continues to run towards the base until the receiving player is facing the throw and is in a Ready Position.
