Cartography - Maps Connecting the World Claudia Robbi Sluter, Carla Bernadete Madureira Cruz, Paulo Márcio Leal de Menezes, 2015-07-10 This book is an important volume in the series on the state of art research in Cartography and GI Science It is a collection of selected peer reviewed papers organized into contemporary topics of research presented at the 27th International Cartographic Conference ICC in Rio de Janeiro This is the 3rd edition of selected ICA conference papers published by Springer Lectures in Geoinformation and Cartography The conference topic is maps connecting the world and Brazilian cartographers and geo information scientists are honored to welcome their peers from all over the world to the event which will present some of the most important recent advances in cartography research and GI science The most relevant papers will be selected for the Springer book and these will be organized into five sections according to topic area to provide a valuable cartography and GI science reference work Economic crises in history teaching Council of Europe, 2025-10-01 How can history education equip students to understand and confront the economic crises of yesterday and tomorrow Since the beginning of the 21st century the economic consequences of the debt crises of 2007 and 2008 of the Covid 19 pandemic and of Russia's war of aggression against Ukraine have continuously challenged the livelihood of many families in Europe and around the world Understanding economic crises from a historical perspective enables students to better respond to present and future experiences of such crises The mission of the Observatory on History Teaching in Europe OHTE is to provide a clear picture of the state of history teaching in its member states This is done through OHTE general reports on the state of history teaching in Europe and OHTE thematic reports which explore particular areas of interest and how they are treated in history lessons The second thematic report of the OHTE investigates the extent and the ways in which learners are being prepared to understand and cope with such crises through history education in the public schooling systems of OHTE's 17 member states It combines curriculum and textbook analysis with an explorative study of teachers' experiences and summarises its most significant conclusions into 10 key findings listed in the introductory chapter

(Re)Constructing Memory: Education, Identity, and Conflict Michelle J. Bellino, James H. Williams, 2017-02-08 How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re-constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex inter relationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces
