Klinger,2018-01-15 Rare Earth Frontiers is a work of human geography that serves to demystify the powerful elements that make possible the miniaturization of electronics green energy and medical technologies and essential telecommunications and defense systems Julie Michelle Klinger draws attention to the fact that the rare earths we rely on most are as common as copper or lead and this means the implications of their extraction are global Klinger excavates the rich historical origins and ongoing ramifications of the quest to mine rare earths in ever more impossible places Klinger writes about the devastating damage to lives and the environment caused by the exploitation of rare earths She demonstrates in human terms how scarcity myths have been conscripted into diverse geopolitical campaigns that use rare earth mining as a pretext to capture spaces that have historically fallen beyond the grasp of centralized power These include legally and logistically forbidding locations in the Amazon Greenland and Afghanistan and on the Moon Drawing on ethnographic archival and interview data gathered in local languages and offering possible solutions to the problems it documents this book examines the production of the rare earth frontier as a place a concept and a zone of contestation sacrifice and transformation Creating Stellar Lessons with Digital Tools Kenneth J. Luterbach,2022-05-12 Creating Stellar Lessons with Digital Tools prepares teachers in training and in service teachers to use technologies for design and development activities with middle and high school students While software open resources handheld devices and other tools hold great potential to enhance learning experiences teachers themselves must model technology use in ways that inspire students to become producers and leaders rather than consumers and followers Featuring concrete applications in social studies English mathematics and science scenarios this book provides pre service and in service teachers with seven paths to creatively integrate and innovate with computational thinking datasets maker spaces visual design media editing and other approaches Community-Owned Transport Leigh Glover,2016-11-03 City and state governments around the world are struggling to achieve environmentally sustainable transport Economic technological city and transport planning and human behaviour solutions are often hampered by ineffective implementation So attention is now turning to institutional governmental and political barriers Approaches to these implementation problems assume that transport ownership can only be public owned
