Hays Salary Guide Oil And Gas:

Are We Screwed? Geoff Dembicki, 2017-08-22 A declaration of resistance and a roadmap for radical change from the generation that will be most screwed by climate change The Millennial generation could be first to experience the doomsday impacts of climate change It s also the last generation able to do something about them With time ticking down 31 year old journalist Geoff Dembicki journeyed to Silicon Valley Canada s tar sands Washington DC Wall Street and the Paris climate talks to find out if he should hope or despair What he learned surprised him Millions of people his age want to radically change our world and they are at the forefront of resistance to the politicians and CEOs steering our planet towards disaster In Are We Screwed Dembicki gives a firsthand account of this movement and the shift in generational values behind it through the stories of young people fighting for their survival It begins with a student who abandons society to live in the rainforest and ends with a Muslim feminist fomenting a political revolution We meet a Brooklyn artist terrifying the oil industry a Norwegian scientist running across the melting Arctic and an indigenous filmmaker challenging the worldview of Mark Zuckerberg Are We Screwed makes a bold argument in these troubled times A safer and more equitable future is more achievable than we ve been led to believe This book will forever change how you view the biggest existential challenge of our era and redefine the generation now battling against the odds to solve it

Managing Resource Abundance and Wealth Jonathon W. Moses, Bjørn Letnes, 2017-05-19 Managing Resource Abundance and Wealth: The Norwegian Experience describes the sundry and significant challenges both economic and political facing petroleum producing countries The volume outlines the pitfalls that policymakers encounter in the aftermath of a major resource discovery and what they can do to protect their countries from the most adverse consequences These lessons are derived from two very different sources The broader if still underdeveloped social science literature that examines the Paradox of Plenty in its disparate forms and the experience of a country that has successfully managed its natural resources over several decades As a small country on the margins of Europe Norway has stood up to powerful international interests in one of the world s most powerful industries Norway has exerted sovereign control over its natural environment and exploited its resources in a way that has delivered significant wealth to its citizens This volume explains how Norway has largely avoided the Paradox of Plenty It aims to demonstrate the variety of policy tools that are available to states rich in natural resources and how these tools can be adjusted to changing domestic and international contexts It considers a number of questions such as how countries need to administer and regulate the industry to consider the costs and benefits associated with various contract and licensing regimes and fiscal arrangements to maintain competitiveness and avoid becoming too dependent upon the sector to maximize local content and to protect the broader economy from the volatility of petroleum prices The volume shows how the industry can be managed in a democratic just and ethical manner and for the benefit of the general population

Building Industries at Sea - 'Blue Growth' and the New Maritime Economy Kate Johnson, Ian Masters, Gordon Dalton, 2022-09-01

Throughout the world there is evidence of mounting interest in marine resources and new maritime industries to create jobs economic growth and to help in the provision of energy and food security Expanding populations insecurity of traditional sources of supply and the effects of climate change add urgency to a perceived need to address and overcome the serious challenges of working in the maritime environment Four promising areas of activity for Blue Growth have been identified at European Union policy level including Aquaculture Renewable Energy offshore wind wave and tide Seabed Mining and Blue Biotechnology Work has started to raise the technological and investment readiness levels TRLs and IRLs of these prospective industries drawing on the experience of established maritime industries such as Offshore Oil and Gas Shipping Fisheries and Tourism An accord has to be struck between policy makers and regulators on the one hand anxious to direct research and business incentives in effective and efficient directions and developers investors and businesses on the other anxious to reduce the risks of such potentially profitable but innovative investments The EU H2020 MARIBE Marine Investment for the Blue Economy funded project was designed to identify the key technical and non technical challenges facing maritime industries and to place them into the social and economic context of the coastal and ocean economy MARIBE went on to examine with companies real projects for the combination of marine industry sectors into multi use platforms MUPs The purpose of this book is to publish the detailed analysis of each prospective and established maritime business sector Sector experts working to a common template explain what these industries are how they work their prospects to create wealth and employment and where they currently stand in terms of innovation trends and their lifecycle The book goes on to describe progress with the changing regulatory and planning regimes in the European Sea Basins including the Caribbean where there are significant European interests The book includes Experienced chapter authors from a truly multidisciplinary team of sector specialisms First extensive study to compare and contrast traditional Blue Economy with Blue Growth Complementary to EU and National policies for multi use of maritime space Property, Institutions, and Social Stratification in Africa Franklin Obeng-Odoom,2020-03-26 In this book Franklin Obeng Odoom seeks to carefully explain engage and systematically question the existing explanations of inequalities within Africa and between Africa and the rest of the world using insights from the emerging field of stratification economics Drawing on multiple sources including archival and historical material and a wide range of survey data he develops a distinctive approach that combines key concepts in original institutional economics such as reasonable value property and the distribution of wealth with other insights into Africa s development and underdevelopment While looking at the Africa wide situation Obeng Odoom also analyzes the experiences of inequalities within specific countries Comprehensive and engaging Property Institutions and Social Stratification in Africa is a useful resource for teaching and research on Africa and the Global South Report Illinois.
