Quick Setup

Before using the projector, make sure you read the safety instructions in the enclosed booklet.

Note: Only connect one device at a time. Turn the projector on and off before you connect or disconnect any device.

Contents

Make sure you have the following items available in the box:

You can place the projector on almost any flat surface, such as a desk. Place the projector on a flat, level surface and at the correct distance from the screen to obtain the desired image size.

Connect the projector

Your projector includes a built-in Android TV operating system that allows you to use Google Play. The projector comes with a built-in microphone and speaker. It can also connect to other devices, such as a video recorder, Blu-ray player, or game console. Refer to the illustrations on the inside cover for all connection options.

You can also connect video equipment to a separate Android source. If it has HDMI output, connect a HDMI cable (not included) to the HDMI port on your video source. If it has composite video output, connect a composite video cable (not included) to the Video and Audio In ports on the projector.

Connect audio

Built-in speaker

The projector has a built-in speaker that can be used for TV audio. Make sure that the Audio Out setting is set to Speaker. For more information, see the projector's online user manual.

External speakers

You can connect external speakers to enhance the projector's audio output. Connect a digital audio cable (not included) to the Audio Out port.

Note: For more information on connecting external speakers, see the projector's online user manual. If you do not hear sound from your HDMI source, check the connection and audio settings of the source.

Bluetooth® devices

You can also connect Bluetooth devices to the projector, such as wireless audio devices or gamepads. Make sure that the device has Bluetooth functionality and that it is switched on. Refer to the device's user manual for more information.

Turn on your equipment

1 Turn on the projector. It may take a few seconds for the image to appear.

2 Press the projector lens cap release button and remove the lens cap.

3 Open the lens cover on the back.

4 Insert the power cord into the projector, then the power source. The Power light illuminates red when the projector receives power.

5 Turn on the source you want to view (Blu-ray player, game console, etc.).

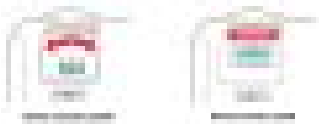
6 The projector starts up. After a few seconds, you see the Android TV home screen. If you have connected multiple sources, select the source you want to view on the projector.

Note: If you have trouble turning on the projector, see the projector's online user manual.

Adjust the image

1 To obtain the best image, position the projector as close to a flat, white wall as possible.

2 To move or change the image, use the motor focus, lens shift, and keystone correction.



3 To view the image, move the projector's zoom ring to the front of the projector. Adjust the position and the zoom if needed.

4 To adjust the image when the projector is not on a flat surface, adjust the feet to the desired position.

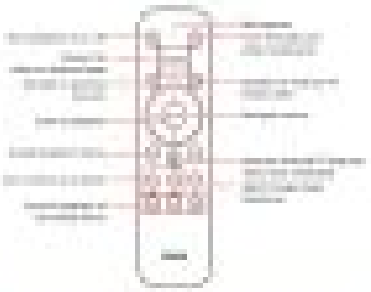
5 If you have connected multiple sources, you can change the source from the projector's menu. Press the center of the control pad on the projector to display the menu. Select Sources, and then select the source you want to view.

6 The projector automatically adjusts image size and keystone correction. If you want to change the settings manually, select Settings > Device Preferences > Keystone. Select Auto to automatically correct keystone distortion, or select Manual to adjust the settings yourself.

Note: For more information on adjusting the image, see the projector's online user manual.

Using the projector remote control

Install batteries and remove the battery cover.



Notes:

- You can use the projector remote control to control other devices that support HDMI-CEC. For more information, see the projector's online user manual.
- The remote control for the projector's Play Later button can control other streaming services or applications. See the online user manual for more information.

Viewing 3D images

To view 3D content, you need to connect a 3D-compatible video device to the HDMI port on your projector. You also need a set of Bluetooth 3D glasses that are compatible with your projector. See the online user manual for a list of compatible 3D glasses.

1 Turn on your 3D glasses and put them on.

Note: Make sure you put the glasses on before the projector starts displaying 3D content. Otherwise, the image may appear distorted.

2 Press the HOME button on the remote control. The Home screen appears.

3 Select the picture-in-picture icon in the top-right corner of the screen.

Note: If the picture-in-picture icon is not displayed, you may need to activate it in the Preferences menu. See the online user manual for more information.

The 3D content is displayed in picture-in-picture mode. Select the picture-in-picture window to display it in full screen.

For more information, see the online user manual.

Troubleshooting

- If you see a black screen or a No signal message when turning on your projector or when viewing video, make sure that:
  - Make sure the power light on the projector is not blinking. Wait until it stops blinking.
  - All cable connections are secure. If you have connected the Blu-ray player using the HDMI port on the projector, try using the other port instead. If you are using a HDMI cable, try using a different cable.
  - If you have set a PIN to block some channels, enter the PIN.
- If the image does not display properly, check the following:
  - Make sure the video source is turned on and playing correctly.
  - Make sure you have selected the correct source. Press the SOURCES button on the remote control and select the correct source.
  - Press the HOME button on the remote control, and then select Settings > Device Preferences > Display & Sound > Video Resolution. Make sure the resolution is set to Auto.
  - Check the picture settings. Press the HOME button on the remote control, and then select Settings > Device Preferences > Picture. Make sure the settings are correct.
- If the projector does not respond to remote control commands, make sure the batteries are inserted correctly. Replace the batteries if necessary.
