

1. The first step is to identify the problem. In this case, the problem is that the company is not meeting its sales targets.

2. The second step is to analyze the data. This involves looking at sales figures, market trends, and customer feedback.

3. The third step is to develop a strategy. This involves identifying the key areas for improvement and setting specific goals.

4. The fourth step is to implement the strategy. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring progress.

5. The fifth step is to evaluate the results. This involves comparing actual performance against the targets and making adjustments as needed.

The following table shows the sales performance of the company over the last five years. The data is presented in a line graph format, with the x-axis representing the year and the y-axis representing sales in millions of dollars.

Year	Sales (Millions of Dollars)
2018	120
2019	135
2020	150
2021	165
2022	180

As shown in the table, sales have increased steadily over the five-year period. This growth is primarily due to the company's focus on product innovation and customer service.

However, there are still some challenges that the company faces. For example, the market is becoming increasingly competitive, and the company needs to continue to invest in research and development to stay ahead.

In conclusion, the company has made significant progress in meeting its sales targets. By continuing to focus on innovation and customer service, the company is well-positioned to achieve even greater success in the future.
