Empowering Science and Mathematics for Global Competitiveness Yuli Rahmawati, Peter Taylor, 2019-06-07 This conference proceedings focuses on enabling science and mathematics practitioners and citizens to respond to the pressing challenges of global competitiveness and sustainable development by transforming research and teaching of science and mathematics The proceedings consist of 82 papers presented at the Science and Mathematics International Conference SMIC 2018 organised by the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences Universitas Negeri Jakarta Indonesia The proceedings are organised in four parts Science Science Education Mathematics and Mathematics Education The papers contribute to our understanding of important contemporary issues in science especially nanotechnology materials and environmental science science education in particular environmental sustainability STEM and STEAM education 21st century skills technology education and green chemistry and mathematics and its application in statistics computer science and mathematics education Transformational Teaching Kenneth S. Coley, Martha E. MacCullough, Deborah L. MacCullough, 2023-02-15 Transformational Teaching by Kenneth Coley Martha MacCullough and Debbie MacCullough provides a comprehensive Christ centered introduction to instructional design and effective teaching It will be useful for education courses teachers in training and experienced teachers who want to elevate their pedagogy from a Christian framework Journal of the National Cancer Institute, 1990 Marine Ecosystem Restoration (MER) - Challenges and New Horizons Brian Silliman, Avigdor Abelson, Christine Angelini, Gesche Krause, Megan Irene Saunders, Tjisse Van Der Heide, 2023-10-23 Worldwide marine ecosystems have been lost and degraded due to anthropogenic disturbances For example oyster reefs have declined by at least 85% coral reefs by 19% seagrasses by 29% North American salt marshes by 42% and mangroves by 35% from the early 19th century Deepwater reefs and deep sea vents are not immune and have also been reduced in extent in many areas Factors driving these losses include habitat destruction pollution invasive species overfishing trawling mining and more recently climate change effects such as ocean warming species range changes and acidification These habitat declines are occurring at a time when marine waters are being used at or near their maximum productive capacity to meet the contemporary needs of an ever increasing human population Because coastal and marine ecosystems generate some of the richest biodiversity hotspots on Earth and provide critical ecosystem services including storm protection fisheries production and carbon storage over 1 billion US dollars have been spent globally in an attempt to halt and reverse observed declines Early conservation efforts aimed at protecting these valuable and threatened habitats focused on reducing human impacts and physical stressors However with habitat degradation continuing and sometimes increasing in rate it is now clear conservation alone will not be sufficient to protect and reestablish coastal ecosystems Habitat restoration although in existence for many decades has recently been elevated as a new primary strategy to stem and even reverse coastal habitat loss The call for increasing investment in restoration efforts has emerged with significant advances in propagule rearing and dispersion of habitat forming organisms e.g oysters seagrasses corals In addition restoration resources are increasingly allocated by governments and or large corporations with the aim to for example fix past landscape engineering efforts that had unintended environmental consequences Such investments are being made to i provide jobs for those unemployed during economic downturns ii restore ecosystems destroyed by natural disasters and stressors iii increase coastal defense in response to increased frequency of intense storms and or iv compensate for pollution and development driven habitat degradation Conservation practitioners have traditionally been skeptical to invest heavily in restoration at large scales because of the high cost per area 10 000 5 000 000 US ha for coastal vs 500 5 000 US ha for terrestrial systems to replant coastal ecosystems and or the high chance that the restored ecosystems will not live long e.g outplanted corals For restoration to be effective and employed as a primary method of coastal conservation at relevant scales we must improve its efficiency lower costs and rapidly share and incorporate advances One crucial step will be to identify when and where restoration attempts have been carried out according to state of art ecological theory and gauge their success Another is generating synthesis studies that focus both within and across ecosystems to identify efficiencies adaptations and innovations Work that shows theoretical and methodological innovations in specific ecosystems as well as across systems will be critical to pushing all fields of MER forward Although there is rapidly increasing interest and investment the field of marine ecosystem restoration is just beginning to undergo synthesis Therefore the aim of this Research Topic is to bring together research contributions to help address this synthesis need provide a spotlight for recent innovations enhance our understanding of successful methods in marine ecosystem restoration and promote integration of ecological sociological and engineering theory into restoration practices

Women and Geology Beth A.

Johnson,2018-07-26 Women have been a part of the story of geology from the beginning but they have struggled to gain professional opportunities equal pay and respect as scientists for decades Some have been dismissed some have been forced to work without pay and some have been denied credit This volume highlights the progress of women in geology including past struggles and how remarkable individuals were able to overcome them current efforts to draw positive attention and perceptions to women in the science and recruitment and mentorship efforts to attract and retain the next generation of women in geology Chapters include the first American women researchers in Antarctica a survey of Hollywood disaster movies and the casting of women as geologists social media campaigns such as 365ScienceSelfies and the stories of the Association for Women Geoscientists and the Earth Science Women s Network and their work to support and mentor women in geology
