Governance of Biotechnology in Post-Soviet Russia Tatyana Novossiolova, 2017-07-19 This book provides an up to date analysis of the governance of biotechnology in post Soviet Russia The rapid advancement of the life sciences over the past few decades promises to bring tremendous benefits but also raises significant social ethical legal and security risks Nations adaptability to the twin challenges of attempting to secure the benefits while reducing the risks and threats is a large and still burgeoning governance challenge Here Novossiolova cuts across several sets of literature bringing together elements of the anthropological study of culture history of science and technology management and international governance and Soviet history and politics Due to its multidisciplinary approach in depth analysis accessible style and extensive reference list this text offers invaluable insights into the normative dimensions of the governance of biotechnology unpacking both the formal and intangible attributes and artefacts of biotechnology policy and practice in Russia The Routledge Handbook of the Political Economy of Science David Tyfield, Rebecca Lave, Samuel Randalls, Charles Thorpe, 2017-04-28 The political economy of research and innovation R I is one of the central issues of the early twenty first century Science and innovation are increasingly tasked with driving and reshaping a troubled global economy while also tackling multiple overlapping global challenges such as climate change or food security global pandemics or energy security But responding to these demands is made more complicated because R I themselves are changing Today new global patterns of R I are transforming the very structures institutions and processes of science and innovation and with it their claims about desirable futures Our understanding of R I needs to change accordingly Responding to this new urgency and uncertainty this handbook presents a pioneering selection of the growing body of literature that has emerged in recent years at the intersection of science and technology studies and political economy The central task for this research has been to expose important but consequential misconceptions about the political economy of R I and to build more insightful approaches This volume therefore explores the complex interrelations between R I both in general and in specific fields and political economies across a number of key dimensions from health to environment and universities to the military The Routledge Handbook of the Political Economy of Science offers a unique collection of texts across a range of issues in this burgeoning and important field from a global selection of top scholars The handbook is essential reading for students interested in the political economy of science technology and innovation It also presents succinct and insightful summaries of the state of the art for more advanced scholars

Designing Effective Feedback Processes in Higher Education Naomi Winstone, David Carless, 2019-06-27 Feedback is one of the most powerful influences on student achievement yet it is difficult to implement productively within the constraints of a mass higher education system Designing Effective Feedback Processes in Higher Education A Learning Focused Approach addresses the challenges of developing effective feedback processes in higher education combining theory and practice to equip and empower educators It places less emphasis on what teachers do in terms of providing commentary and more emphasis on how students generate make sense of and use feedback for ongoing improvement Including discussions on promoting student engagement with feedback technology enabled feedback and effective peer feedback this book Contributes to the theory and practice of feedback in higher education by showcasing new paradigm feedback thinking focused on dialogue and student uptake Synthesises the evidence for effective feedback practice Provides contextualised examples of successful innovative feedback designs analysed in relation to relevant literature Highlights the importance of staff and student feedback literacy in developing productive feedback partnerships Supports higher education teachers in further developing their feedback practice Designing Effective Feedback Processes in Higher Education A Learning Focused Approach contributes to the theory and practice of higher education pedagogy by re evaluating how feedback processes are designed and managed It is a must read for educators researchers and academic developers in higher education who will benefit from a guide to feedback research and practice that addresses well recognised challenges in relation to assessment and feedback

Lafferty, David G. Biron, 2015-07-24 Next Generation Sequencing technologies are increasingly revealing that microbial taxa likely to be parasites or symbionts are probably much more prevalent and diverse than previously thought Every well studied free living species has parasites parasites themselves can be parasitized As a rule of thumb there is an estimated 4 parasitic species for any given host and the better a host is studied the more parasites are known to infect it Therefore parasites and other symbionts should represent a very large number of species and may far outnumber those with free living lifestyles Paradoxically free living hosts which form the bulk of our knowledge of biology may be a minority Microbial parasites typically are characterized by their small size short generation time and high rates of reproduction with simple life cycle occurring generally within a single host They are diverse and ubiquitous in the environment comprising viruses prokaryotes and eukaryotes This Frontiers Research Topic sought to provide a broad overview but concise comprehensive well referenced and up to date state of the art for everyone involved with microbial parasites in aquatic microbial ecology *Innovation Management.
