History of Television's The Virginian, 1962-1971 Paul Green,2014-01-10 On September 19 1962 The Virginian made its primetime broadcast premiere The 1902 novel by Owen Wister had already seen four movie adaptations when Frank Price mentioned the story s series potential to NBC Filmed in color The Virginian became television s first 90 minute western series Immensely successful it ran for nine seasons television s third longest running western This work accounts for the entire creative history of The Virginian including the original inspirations and the motion picture adaptations but the primary focus is its transformation into television and the ways in which the show changed over time An extensive episode guide includes title air date guest star s writers producers director and a brief synopsis of each of The Virginian s 249 episodes along with detailed cast and production credits      China's Media in the Emerging World Order Hugo de Burgh,2017 China is challenging the mighty behemoths Google and Facebook and creating alternative New Media 750 million people are active on its Social Mediascape and there are a billion mobile phones deploying the innovative apps with which the Chinese conduct their lives Though late starters already four of the world s leading New Media companies are Chinese China s old media television newspapers radio challenge the established powers which were long thought unassailable such as CNN and BBC Produced in many languages on every continent they are re defining the agenda and telling the story in China s way with not just news and documentary series but also entertainment The world s biggest manufacturer of TV drama is now making its stories for export China s Media tells you why and how It investigates the Chinese media their strengths and weaknesses and how they are different from the West This detailed and comprehensive guide aims to showcase their immense variety and diversity and demonstrates how they came to be a powerful new force in the media world      San Francisco Chronicle

& Video Almanac ,2007      Cable Vision ,2001-07      As Others See Us Stephen Brooks,2006-02-01 One of the ironies of the post Cold War world in which the power of the United States is without rival is that the costs of isolationism and ignorance are greater than ever The temptation to imagine that the rest of the world matters less than before is enticing as America basks in the triumphant glow of a world in which capitalism and democracy under the aegis of American leadership are thought to have vanquished all rivals Although it is unlikely that Americans will come to pay much attention to the rest of the world anytime soon except when their citizens are threatened or killed abroad or when they are persuaded that the threat of foreigners doing harm at home seems real their failure to do so cripples the ability of the United States to understand a world in which American interests security and prosperity are embedded to an unprecedented degree As Others See Us investigates the causes and consequences of the world s perceptions of America It proceeds from the premise that the images ideas and information that foreign populations have of the United States and Americans come from a number of sources most of which are mediated Some of these sources are American Hollywood especially Others are located outside the country in the media educational religious and political systems through which foreign populations learn about America Any attempt to understand the what and why of foreign perceptions of America needs to look closely at these external determinants of how the image and interpretation of the United States is constructed in different societies

Mass Media, Modernity, and Development Fayad Kazan, 1993-11-30 Kazan tests several hypotheses on development communications derived from the ideas of Marx Toynbee Lerner McLuhan Frey and Schiller through three years of research he conducted in Saudi Arabia Oman Bahrain the United Arab Emirates Kuwait and Qatar He focuses on whether media content rather than the process of media exposure i.e. vicarious exposure to different experiences is the decisive factor in cultivating modernity Particularly Kazan examines whether Gulf media which convey socially and politically restricted traditional content in traditional societies cultivate attitudinal traditionality or modernity Investigated are the differences in the impact of local regional and foreign media and various media organs including newspapers magazines radio television video and electronic media Kazan also tests the notion of cultural imperialism such as the degrees of credibility that respondents lend to Western media their interest in and satisfaction with Western and regional media and the amount of time respondents allocate to Western and local media Specific media studied include the Voice of America Radio Moscow Monte Carlo Radio the BBC Voice of the Arabs Voice of the Arab Homeland Radio of the Islamic Republic of Iran and the local broadcasting services of each Gulf country Dr Kazan presents both a review and a critique of classical and mainstream theories of modernization in general and those of development communication in particular to determine the degrees of validity relevance and applicability of these theories to the development situation of Gulf societies Furthermore Kazan develops an integrated mass media effects model that factors in both macro and micro processes that are dynamically interconnected interdependent and continuously evolving and changing to account for the impact of media on modernity and development Media impact according to this model should be understood not only in terms of the socio economic and psychological characteristics of the media audience but also in terms of the dynamics of the whole socio cultural and political system Kazan concludes his study with a critique of the Western paradigm of development and presents the outline of a new paradigm of development that is more in harmony with the new physics with the ecosystems and with social justice
