"Journalism's Woodstock" - Old vs. New Journalism in a decade of change ,2008-01-22 Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject Communications Journalism Journalism Professions grade 1 7 University of Hannover Englishes Seminar language English abstract New Journalism caused a sensation in the turbulent 1960s when young American writers both journalists and novelists began to blur the lines between fact and fiction The traditional rules defining journalism and literature did not exist anymore at least in the heads of many new journalists Tom Wolfe Truman Capote Norman Mailer Joan Didion and Hunter S Thompson were only a few of many representatives who raised a heated discussion about the obligation to be objective in print journalism Notwithstanding the turning away from the impersonal almost clinical news journalism and the shift towards an authentic emotional yet nonfictional style of writing reflected the atmosphere of the 60s and 70s in America The paper sets out to explore the phenomenon of New Journalism its techniques as well as its meaning within the decade of its emergence In order to give an insight into the self conception of New Journalists their research strategies will be explained exemplarily Furthermore traditional journalistic techniques will be further elaborated and compared to those of New Journalism How do newspaper journalists work and write What principles underlie their writing and how did these rules evolve in the first place Chapter 2 gives answers to these questions Finally claiming objectivity to be the absolute when it comes to representing the truth is questionable Rather both Old and New Journalism can sensibly complement each other
