Replace the bracketed text below with your responses.

Identify the topic you chose to explore:

- Tulsa Massacre

Describe how exploring your research question improved your understanding of the historical roots of your current event.

- My historical question was Why did the White Americans do the massacre? I've explored this question a lot, I've learned that the White Americans were still full of racism and couldn't understand why a black community could be so successful, the White Americans were full of jealousy and greed. This question brought out a lot for me. I will never get the correct answer as I want because I have researched this and have found no interviews or articles from the White Americans. So I will never be able to unfold the full truth on this. But reading and listening to interviews from the African American community, I have learned that they built a successful community, and the White Americans were racist and believed that they should not of had a regular life, they were meant to work for the White Man, so they destroyed and killed most of them.

Explain how biased perspectives influence what is known about both your historical and current events.

- Biased perspectives influence what is known about both events because the White Americans are the biased ones in both my historical event. Most people believe that White Americans are all racist. While that statement is somewhat true even today, but not all of us are. There is this stigma that White Americans will never truly be able to let go of letting the African American community in. This has slowly gotten better, as today it's more of the Police that target the Black Community. BLM (Black Lives Matter) is a big event in today's events. Police have been targeting and killing African Americans.

Propose how the narrative about your historical event might change if it were told from a missing perspective.

- The missing perspective I see in my historical event is the White Americans side of this story, I think that it might change to hear their part. I believe the KKK had a lot to do with this massacre. They were and still are one of the biggest white supremacy's in
