I Heart Exponents:

Manners Sarah Josepha Buell Hale, 1889 Temple Bar , 1880 The Vassar Miscellany , 1908 Carlowrie; Or, Among Lothian Folk Annie S. Swan, 1884 Encyclopaedia of Religion and Ethics James Hastings, John Alexander Selbie, Louis Herbert Gray, 1916 The European Jews, Patriotism and the Liberal State, 1789-1939 David Aberbach, 2013

The fragility of the liberal democratic state after 1789 is illustrated in the history of the European Jews from the French Revolution to the Holocaust. Emancipation and hope of emancipation amongst the European Jewish population created a plethora of Jewish identities and forms of patriotism. This book takes the original approach of studying European Jewish patriotism as a whole with particular attention given to creative literature. Despite their growing awareness of racial genocidal hatred, most European Jews between 1789 and 1939 tended to be patriotic toward the countries of their citizenship, an attitude reflected in the literature of the time. Yet the common assumption among emancipated Jews that anti-Semitism would fade in a world governed by reason proved false. For millions of European Jews, the infinite possibilities they associated with emancipation came to nothing. The Jewish experience exposed many of the weaknesses and failings of the liberal multicultural state and demonstrated that its survival cannot be taken for granted but is dependent on vigilance and struggle. By focusing on Jewish patriotism from 1789-1939, this book explores the nature of the liberal state, how it can fail, and the conditions needed for its survival.

Miriam, the Avenger Emma Dorothy Eliza Nevitte Southworth, 1889 The Bookman , 1924 The Harmony of the Soul: Sigfrid Karg-Elert's Letters "To His Australian Friends" Harold Fabrikant, 2010

Sigfrid Karg-Elert was an important composer in the first decades of the 20th century. He was however largely ignored as a composer in his native Germany until the 1960s, but it was the English speaking world which discovered him in the early 1900s and realised that he was one of the most important organ composers of his era. Arthur Nickson was a leading Australian born musician, initially trained in Melbourne and later in London. This book contains the letters from a bilateral correspondence which started cautiously, formally in 1913, it was interrupted by the Great War but recommenced in 1923. Nickson shared these letters with few others. Many had no idea of their content until the collection was published for the first time solely in an English translation in 1996. This is now the second edition of that same work, in which some translations are revised, more extensive annotations provided, and the entire original German text reproduced.

Modern Music and Musicians Louis Charles Elson, 1912 Hubert Von Herkomer A. L. Baldry, 1901 Asian Review , 1920 The Reform Advocate , 1927 The Western Christian Advocate , 1902 Appletons' Journal , 1876 The Christian Advocate , 1921 Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the Kentucky State Bar Association Kentucky State Bar Association, 1912
