Holocaust Monuments and National Memory Peter Carrier,2006-09-01 Since 1989 two sites of memory with respect to the deportation and persecution of Jews in France and Germany during the Second World War have received intense public attention the V lo d Hiver Winter Velodrome in Paris and the Monument for the Murdered Jews of Europe or Holocaust Monument in Berlin Why is this so Both monuments the author argues are unique in the history of memorial projects Although they are genuine sites of memory neither monument celebrates history but rather serve as platforms for the deliberation negotiation and promotion of social consensus over the memorial status of war crimes in France and Germany The debates over these monuments indicate that it is the communication among members of the public via the mass media rather than qualities inherent in the sites themselves which transformed these sites into symbols beyond traditional conceptions of heritage and patriotism

After the Deportation Philip Nord,2020-12-03 A total of 160 000 people a mix of r sistants and Jews were deported from France to camps in Central and Eastern Europe during the Second World War In this compelling new study Philip Nord addresses how the Deportation as it came to be known was remembered after the war and how

Deportation memory from the very outset became politicized against the backdrop of changing domestic and international contexts He shows how the Deportation generated competing narratives Jewish Catholic Communist and Gaullist and analyzes the stories told by and about deportees after the war and how these stories were given form in literature art film monuments and ceremonials

Alphonse de Châteaubriant Kay Chadwick,2002 The Second World War spawned infamous collaborators such as Brasillach and Drieu la Rochelle men who betrayed France throughout the Occupation Among their number stands the Catholic writer Alphonse de Châteaubriant Author of the prize winning novels Monsieur des Lourdines and La Bri re he turned his literary talents to the propagation of a collaborationist message in the pages of the infamous essay La Gerbe des forces and the equally ignominious newspaper La Gerbe Although nothing predisposes a Catholic to be a collaborator Châteaubriant's commitment to the National Socialist cause arose from an idiosyncratic reading of Christian doctrine which justified racism and elitism in the name of spiritual regeneration He viewed his encounter with National Socialism as a long awaited meeting of minds and championed its representatives as men of vision who would re evangelise the world After the war Châteaubriant fled to Austria Condemned as a traitor in his absence he indulged in an attempt at self revision and fulminated against his judges until his dying day This book explores the dangerous pathways down which misplaced idealism can lead It challenges those who would obscure the proper telling of Châteaubriant's involvement or obstruct a fitting narrative of the Vichy years
