How to Judge a Book by its Cover Kate Cuthbert,2025-12-10 Combining both an industry and research focus How to Judge a Book by its Cover not only judges books by their covers but provides a methodology for others to do the same Despite book titles and book covers having been identified defined and discussed as paratexts beginning first with Gerard Genette and by many paratextual and publishing scholars since there is currently no methodology or defined vocabulary for the analysis and discussion of their creation the intent and effect of their structure and their constituent elements As these paratexts become further and further removed from their texts then like texts they can and should be studied especially as literature is inextricably embedded in industrial and social currents How to Judge a Book by its Cover looks more deeply at book covers and book titles two paratexts that are of broad academic interest but crucial to the placement marketing and commerce of the publishing industry Bringing together paratextual studies publishing studies and media studies visual design analysis and the world of advertising this work marries academic rigour with industry experience to first define the role that book covers and book titles play and then articulate a methodology for their analysis By identifying intent behind book covers and book titles defining the elements that may be achieved in this intent and providing opportunities to measure their success both scholars and industry professionals will have a clear and robust vocabulary in discussions of these key marketing paratexts This book can be used for students and researchers who are interested in media studies paratextual studies publishing internet studies postcolonial studies and popular fiction studies Dancing in the Fire Victoria

ROMANCE(PINK EDITION) FOLORUNSHO MEJABI,2015-11-14 Nothing is more curious and awkward than the relationship of two people who only know each other with their eyes who meet and observe each other daily even hourly and who keep up the impression of disinterest either because of morals or because of a mental abnormality Between them there is listlessness and pent up curiosity the hysteria of an unsatisfied unnaturally suppressed need for communion and also a kind of tense respect Because man loves and honours man as long as he is not able to judge him and desire is a product of lacking knowledge Thomas Mann Death in Venice and Other Tales Prequels, Coquels and Sequels in Contemporary Anglophone

Fiction Armelle Parey,2018-09-03 This book offers to delineate a key phenomenon in contemporary Anglophone fiction novel expansion when the plot and characters from a finished novel are retrieved to be developed in new adventures set before after or during the narrative time of the source text If autographic and allographic sequels are almost as old as literature prequels that imagine the anteriority of a narrative and coquels that develop secondary characters in the same story time as the source text are more recent The overall trend for novel expansion spread in the mid 1980s and 1990s and has since shown no sign of abating This volume is organised following three types of relationships to the source texts even if these occasionally combine to produce a more complex structure This book comprises 11 essays preceded by an introduction that examine narrative strategies aesthetic ethical and political tendencies underlying these novel expansions Following the overview provided in the introduction the reader will find case studies of prequels coquels and sequels before a final chapter that encompasses them all and more
