

Year 3 Writing Sample

Topic: The astonishing bicycle

Before

→ One day, Laura and Katie found a bicycle that was sitting by itself. It was weird, it had these large boosters on the back. Katie and Laura were looking at it when all of a sudden it started pedalling away from them! It was pedalling all by itself and no-one was on it!

'One day' is a clichéd start that doesn't grip the reader. Using a Sizzling Starts technique would be more engaging.

There is action here, but it is buried. It would be much more engaging to start in the middle of the action.

After

→ 'Look, a bicycle! It is a weird one, it has got boosters on the back,' said Laura. Laura and her friend Katie walked over to the bicycle to have a better look at it. But as they got nearer to the bicycle it started pedalling away! 'That was strange,' said Katie. 'It had no-one on it!'

Starting with dialogue draws the reader right into the scene. It also establishes what is happening.

This part of the dialogue makes the reader curious – how is the bicycle pedalling away with no one on it?
