What Is Cool?

No one can truly understand the sensation of jumping directly onto a turtle, but this is just one of many characteristics bestowed upon the main character in the book Super Plumber Guy. The book depicts a brightly lit world of wonder, fungi, and amphibians in varying biomes. While the main character, Mr. Plumber, is depicted as an everyman, his distinct look, style, and behaviors as described in the book show that he is anything but.

Mr. Plumber was originally written as something of an everyday character that the reader could embody. He has no true personality, nor does he have a voice, often allowing secondary characters around him to fill in the gaps. The reader does know that he wears a brightly colored hat, jumps high, and enjoys mushrooms. These are humble characteristics that bring out the humanity of the character. Most people are not a list of unique characteristics but a mosaic of smaller idiosyncrasies.

Super Plumber Guy remains a popular read containing a human character that many might consider boring or free of personality. However, Mr. Plumber is an exceedingly human character who acts as a blank slate for the reader. Diving deeper into other characters and their interactions with him may glean further insight into Mr. Plumber's motivations and inner psychology.

The Writing Report Card, 1984-88 Arthur N. Applebee, 1990 Based on two national assessments of the writing proficiency of representative samples of students in grades 4 8 and 11 conducted during the school years ending in 1984 and 1988 this report assesses the informative persuasive and imaginative writing performance of the nation s students and tracks changes in performance over time The first three chapters of the report describe student performance on the informative persuasive and imaginative writing tasks included in the writing trend assessments based on the results of the primary trait and holistic analyses The fourth chapter summarizes trends in average task accomplishment for the nation and various demographic subpopulations In the fifth chapter trends in students grammar punctuation and spelling are discussed The sixth chapter discusses factors that appear to be related to writing performance such as students instructional experiences and home environment The report concludes that despite some progress on some tasks students writing performance across tasks remains low and has changed little across time The report also finds that the extent to which students at all grade levels value writing use it in their own lives and engage in writing process activities remains quite limited A procedural appendix and an appendix of data are attached RS
