

Handover report

What is the Handover report and what is its purpose

The handover report is used to formally confirm if work or performance were delivered to the customer. Mostly it is a confirmation of the actual physical delivery of work that is then accessible to the customer. Handover is important in view of the deadlines stated in the contract; after the handover the deadline for commenting and acceptance starts running. The report must clearly specify the subject matter of handover with regard to the contract.

ATTENTION: Handover may not mean acceptance. Handover refers to the fact that a given item physically exists, it is accessible, but not that it works. For more extensive performance it is advisable to separate handover from acceptance and, before accepting the work, we should be able to check its quality (see the Acceptance report form).

In simple cases, e.g. when paper for printers is delivered, handover and acceptance can happen in one step and any potential reservations will be dealt with as a complaint.

When is the document prepared

Every time when we are delivering a part of the project or a phase of the project to the other party. In any case every time we are delivering a material item (product, HW delivery, etc.) and when we are delivering a service (training for operators, presentation).

Who participates in the preparation process

The project manager in cooperation with the relevant member of the project team will participate in the actual physical handover of outputs. The person representing the supplier should have a handover report ready, which should be confirmed as a proof of handover.

When is the document used

The document is used as legal evidence that a handover took place, e.g. to determine contractual deadlines, or to determine who has had access to project outputs.

Process of preparing the document

1. Fill in the project header, identification of the person handing over the subject matter of handover and the person accepting the subject matter of handover.
2. Specify the subject matter of handover and the handover method.
3. The field Notes is used to report any objections, comments and shortcomings established during the handover.
4. Fill in the place and date of handover.
5. Both parties shall confirm the handover by signing the signature sheet.
6. Make an original copy for both parties to the handover.

How To Write A Handover Guidelines Document:

Ultimate Guide to Business Writing Julian Maynard-Smith, 2021-03-15 The Ultimate Guide to Business Writing is a comprehensive guide on how to write any kind of business document. Written clearly in an engaging voice, it explains in depth the whole process from determining objectives to establishing readers' needs, conducting research, outlining, and designing a template to writing the first draft to editing for meaning, accuracy, concision, style, and emotional impact to creating glossaries and indices to proofreading and working with reviewers. The book also explains how to exploit the psychology of perception and motivation, collaborate effectively with business colleagues, manage documents holistically across an organisation, and deal with the other everyday practicalities of managing knowledge in a corporate environment. Every section of the book is packed with questions to stimulate thinking and generate meaningful answers, and dozens of examples of what works and why. The book is also rich in practical examples drawn from real life anecdotes, humour, and visual aids. But the advice isn't just practical and anecdotal; it's also rigorously supported by scientific evidence from notable linguists and psychologists such as Steven Pinker, Daniel Goleman, and Yellowlees Douglas. And anyone keen to explore further will benefit from the bibliography and links to videos and other online resources. The book is ideal not just for professional business writers such as editors, technical writers, copywriters, and creative directors; it's also suitable for anyone whose job requires them to write, whether it's something as simple as an email or as complex as a set of policies or a handbook.

Governance of Innovation Project Management Christoph Johann Stettina, 2025-10-01 The study is motivated by the aspiration to understand project governance in organizations pursuing the development of new products and services across multiple knowledge worker teams. In particular, the following problem statement guides the study: Is governance of innovation project management necessary or neglected? Taking the example of agile teams illustrated here, is how the advancements in team-based project management approaches force us to rethink governance of innovation project management? The findings are based on eight studies. The data consists of results from a total of 53 knowledge worker teams across 44 organizations in 8 countries, viz. about 3800 minutes of recorded material enriched by four quantitative surveys and many hours of observations. The two main conclusions drawn from this study are: 1. fundamentally different approaches to governance of innovation projects are a prerequisite for a success of projects developing new products and services, and 2. governance, particularly in heavily top-down influenced fields such as public administration, will benefit from advancements in agile project management methods.
