Strategic Occidentalism Ignacio M. Sanchez Prado, 2018-08-15 Strategic Occidentalism examines the transformation in both aesthetics and infrastructure of Mexican fiction since the late 1970s. During this time a framework has emerged characterized by the corporatization of publishing a frictional relationship between Mexican literature and global book markets and the desire of Mexican writers to break from dominant models of national culture. In the course of this analysis Ignacio M Sanchez Prado engages with theories of world literature proposing that world literature is a construction produced at various levels including the national that must be studied from its material conditions of production in specific sites. In particular he argues that Mexican writers have engaged in a strategic Occidentalism in which their idiosyncratic connections with world literature have responded to dynamics different from those identified by world systems or diffusionist theorists. Strategic Occidentalism identifies three scenes in which a cosmopolitan aesthetics in Mexican world literature has been produced. Sergio Pitol's translation of Eastern European and marginal British modernist literature, the emergence of the Crack group as a polemic against the legacies of magical realism and the challenges of writers like Carmen Boullosa, Cristina Rivera Garza and Ana Garc a Bergua to the roles traditionally assigned to Latin American writers in world literature.

Transcultural Encounters amongst Women Gabrielle Carty, Patricia O'Byrne, 2010-05-11 Traditionally women have found recourse in artistic means to interrogate change and upheaval. This volume explores the experiences of women from Spain, Portugal and Latin America in the twentieth and twenty first centuries who themselves have crossed cultural boundaries or have described this experience in their literature and film. Areas investigated in this collection of essays include the experience of the exiled or the immigrant and their personal or collective response to displacement and adaptation, the transcultural potential of cyberspace for women, how patterns and styles of the fashion industry have crossed borders, how women have crossed canonical cultural boundaries in search of identity and meaning, how global cultural influences have manifested in Hispanic and Lusophone cultural practices and production by or about women and the challenging question of whether canine writing can be considered a branch of feminist theory. Common to most of the essays are the central issues of identity, values, conflict and interconnectedness and an analysis of the patterns that result from the transcultural encounter of these aspects.

Crime Scenes Charlotte Lange,Ailsa Peate,2019 Crime fiction has become a key element in Latin American literature The rise in production of the genre can be explained by an urgency to explore issues of morality in societies which incorporate varying levels of censorship and corruption Through a focus on the concept of the crime scene itself this book identifies and interrogates some of the principal developments in contemporary Latin American crime fiction In ten chapters which cover Argentina Chile Colombia Costa Rica Cuba Mexico and Venezuela and generic diversity which spans police procedurals narcoliteratura postmodern detection and historical portrayals of crimes the authors investigate how the crime scene which has always been central to the genre and its subgenres critiques local and global issues including social injustice discrimination neoliberalism violence identity corruption and memory
