

Geometry Lesson Plan

- Lesson Plan Title: We need to save Rectangletown!
- Concept / Topic To Teach: Geometry, Measurement, and Number Sense. Students work with the concepts of a square and translations as they consider the number of square sections that can be sold by the town council. The measurement concepts of the task focus on the area of the perimeter of squares. Students also spend a large part of the task on number concepts as they count various sections, calculate areas, and work with assorted operations to determine the town council's maximum profit.
- Standards Addressed:
- General Goal(s): To identify what the students know about the properties of rectangles and squares.
- Specific Objectives: Both shapes have four right angles, rectangles have congruent opposite sides, and squares have four congruent sides.
- Identify the relationship between the side lengths and the area of a rectangle.
- Identify rectangular sections on the activity sheet.
- Identify how many different size rectangles there will be.
- Identify the total number of rectangular sections that the town could sell.
