Introduction to Islamic Economics Asad Zaman, 2019

According to the standard narrative economics is an objective and scientific study of universal laws applicable to economic affairs of modern societies After a brief introduction the second section of the paper presents a counter narrative which disputes this claim and provides an alternative point of view which situates modern economics within its European historical political and social context We briefly discuss why the conventional methodology of modern economics makes false claims to objectivity and universality The third section provides an alternative methodology which is based on the recognition that human behavior is inherently and unavoidably normative and any study of human beings and societies must take this into account The fourth section of the paper brings out the norms concealed within the foundations of modern economics since the avowed methodology does not permit explicit and open expression of these norms The fifth section describes Islamic views which describe the normative ideals for our personal and social lives In particular Islam aims at the development of the potential for excellence that every human being is born with It does not aim at accumulation of wealth and material possessions nor does it aim at achievement of happiness through the maximization of pleasure achieved by consumption The sixth section describes the transformational strategies required for spiritual progress in different dimensions of our human existence The seventh section describes some of the institutional structures required in the economic realm to assist in the achievement of the transformation towards the normative ideals The final section explains how we should use our unique and precious lives to aim for higher goals than mere consumption of goods and acquisition of wealth

Islamicity Indices Hossein Askari, Hossein Mohammadkhan, 2017-12-13 The extent of Islamicity or what Islam demands is measured to confirm that self declared Muslim countries have not adopted foundational Islamic teachings for rule compliant Muslim communities Western countries on the other hand are demonstrated to have better implemented fundamental Islamic teachings for a thriving society Islamism, Crisis and Democratization Hussein Solomon, Arno Tausch, 2019-08-22 This book systematically assesses the value systems of active Muslims around the globe Based on a multivariate analysis of recent World Values Survey data it sheds new light on Muslim opinions and values in countries such as Indonesia Iran Tunisia Egypt and Turkey Due to a lack of democratic traditions sluggish economic growth escalating religiously motivated violence and dissatisfaction with ruling elites in many Muslim countries the authors identify a crisis and return to conservative values in the Muslim world including anti Semitism religious and sexual intolerance and views on democracy and secularism business and economic matters Based on these observations they offer recommendations for policymakers and civil societies in Muslim countries on how to move towards tolerance greater democratization and more rapid economic growth

Islamism, Arab Spring, and the Future of Democracy Leonid Grinin, Andrey Korotayev, Arno Tausch, 2018-09-26 This book provides an in depth analysis of public opinion patterns among Muslims particularly in the Arab world On the basis of data from the World Values Survey the Arab Barometer Project and the Arab Opinion Index it compares the dynamics of Muslim opinion structures with global publics and arrives at social scientific predictions of value changes in the region Using country factor scores from a variety of surveys it also develops composite indices of support for democracy and a liberal society on a global level and in the Muslim world and analyzes a multivariate model of opinion structures in the Arab world based on over 40 variables from 12 countries in the Arab League and covering 67% of the total population of the Arab countries While being optimistic about the general long term trend towards democracy and the resilience of Arab and Muslim civil society to Islamism the book also highlights anti Semitic trends in the region and discusses them in the larger context of xenophobia in traditional societies In light of the current global confrontation with radical Islamism this book provides vital material for policy planners academics and think tanks alike
