Harisinghani, 2024-11-01 This book offers a practical evidence based casebook on abdominal imaging As imaging is increasingly being used for most clinical scenarios referring physicians rely on radiologists to provide evidence based interpretation for the incidental and indication related findings seen on the imaging studies While imagers are trained in identifying the findings what makes a report more clinically relevant is the accurate assessment and a more focused differential based on knowing the pertinent evidence based data that supports one diagnosis over the other or favors benign over malignant etiology Imagers typically don't have this information readily available to them to provide and make a more informed impression of the findings seen For example if a hyperdense renal lesion with attenuation of 80 HU is seen on the noncontrast stone protocol CT it is important to know what is the likelihood this lesion is worrisome and if any further investigation is needed While this information is available it is scattered and one needs to acquire synthesize and collate this from the web This casebook overcomes this void by providing this information in a simplified case based template that any reader can then quickly reference and use in their day to day work In addition template language for dictation where relevant will be provided Cases are organized around major abdominal areas including bowel genitourinary tract and pancreas Each case also includes a table of pearls and pitfalls to be learned and applied to everyday practice This is an ideal guide for residents fellows and staff from radiology as a day to day resource or board review book Given the lack of a comprehensive text this will be useful to all cadres of radiologists

Smith and Tanagho's General Urology, Eighteenth Edition Donald Ridgeway Smith, 2013
Smith's General Urology is the classic reference for a brief concise overview of urology. The book simultaneously serves residents in urology with the base of knowledge they will draw upon for their rotations and boards and serves junior faculty with the review they rely upon when they are on the wards.

Genitourinary Imaging Glenn A. Tung, Ronald J. Zagoria, William W. Mayo-Smith, 2000
Genitourinary Imaging revisits the entire spectrum of genitourinary radiology through the presentation of radiographic cases. Cases selected will help physicians and other medical personnel learn the important areas in this field. This book is a companion to the Genitourinary Radiology: The Requisites textbook. Together they cover the field providing excellent preparation for board examinations and clinical review. Unknown case presentation provides exceptional preparation for board exams. Numerous cases with brief discussions allow readers to move from topic to topic swiftly. Each case includes a brief discussion of disease as well as differential diagnosis to help readers prepare for board exams or recertification. Self-testing mimics official exam formats with challenging cases beyond exam levels to provide thorough preparation and build confidence. Cases are randomly organized and divided into three overall categories to allow readers to test at differing degrees of difficulty.

Companion to the Zagoria Tung Genitourinary Radiology: The Requisites volume
Together they provide a great one-two combination punch to beat the exams. Approximately 440 state-of-the-art images effectively complement the text and provide a clear picture of what exam takers can expect. A wonderful preparation tool for residents, fellows, or practicing radiologists preparing for recertification exams.

Diagnostic Strategies for Internal Medicine Charles J. Grodzin, Stephen C. Schwartz, Roger C. Bone, 1996
This book utilizes a case study approach to major problems in general and critical care medicine. The physician in training encountering major disease processes for the first time will learn how to work up patients and arrive at differential diagnoses. Most importantly, this book teaches the art of clinical reasoning by walking the reader through the clinical decision-making process.
