1. Overview

This manual establishes preferred style for the preparation of proposed IEEE standards. IEEE Standards project editors are available for advice and assistance throughout this process. Please note that many of the suggested guidelines can be adapted and restructured to suit the needs of a particular group, however, it is strongly recommended that working groups consult with IEEE Standards project editors before deviating from this style. Failure to follow the requirements (shall) or recommendations (should) of this manual may result in delayed approval of the draft standard by the IEEE Standards Association Standards Board or delayed publication of the standard.

This 2007 Edition of the IEEE Standards Style Manual is applicable to all drafts submitted for IEEE Sponsor ballot or to the IEEE Standards Association Standards Board after 1 June 2007. A file showing highlighted changes to the 2005 Edition of the IEEE Standards Style Manual is available from the IEEE Standards Web site <<http://standards.ieee.org/guides/style/index.html>>. Any comments or queries concerning this document should be forwarded to an IEEE Standards project editor via email (stds-style@ieee.org) or directly to the staff liaison. The email must contain a clear description of the relevant text and the recommended changes, where applicable.

This manual is not intended to be a guide to the procedural development of standards.<sup>1</sup> Recommended manuals on this subject are the IEEE Standards Association Standards Board Bylaws [B4]<sup>2</sup>, and the IEEE Standards Association Standards Board Operations Manual [B6].<sup>2</sup> For examples of IEEE Standards style of drafts, please see Annex B. An example amendment can be found in Annex C.

2. Normative references

The following referenced documents are indispensable for the application of this document (i.e., they must be understood and used, so each referenced document is cited in text and its relationship to this document is explained).
