London language English abstract This dissertation is a study in the area of e commerce The aim of this study was to examine the adoption of online shopping and online shopping for clothing in particular and factors influencing the intention to purchase clothing online A quantitative research method was used and a questionnaire designed on the website www surveymonkey com and then distributed by sending out the link leading to the survey via facebook and emails 94 useful questionnaires were gathered from female and male UK students SPSS 17 was used to analyse the collected data by conducting chi square tests and Spearman s rho correlation tests to examine the relation between different variables The constructs of the technology acceptance model TAM were used as a framework and basis for this research and were extended by further constructs Therefore the impact of perceived usefulness perceived ease of use prior online shopping experience perceived risk and product involvement on the intention to purchase clothing online was analysed Perceived usefulness perceived ease of use and prior online shopping experience had positive effects on the intention to purchase clothing online Perceived risk had a negative effect on the intention to purchase clothing online These findings supported the hypotheses Other than hypothesised clothing product involvement did not have a significant positive effect on the intention to purchase clothing online
