

WEB CONTENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

UNIT – I

Back in the early 90s, the first step for managing content online was through the Server Side. What this means is that it allows you to keep certain sections of your website distinct from the primary content, for instance, the site menu or the footer of the page. This was also the time when Common Gateway Interface came into existence that allowed developers to build interactive web forms into the website.

Today, content is delivered dynamically through Web 2.0, where companies are using the modern, agile and flexible web content management system.

1 Web content management system (WCMS):

1.1 Definition:

1. A web content management system is a platform that allows organizations to manage different types of digital information on their website, by creating and managing dynamic content without any knowledge of programming or any mark-up languages.

By implementing dynamically managed web content, businesses can take informed decisions based on insights delivered through the platform.

2. A web content management system (WCMS) is a type of content management system (CMS) that provides an organization with a way to manage digital information on a website through creating and maintaining content without prior knowledge of web programming or markup languages.

Managing web content effectively can have useful business applications in the enterprise, producing insights for decision-making and delivering results, as well as value.

1.2 How does a WCMS work?

A web content management system, also known as WCMS helps in maintaining and controlling the content on a website. The content is stored in a central database and the same is recalled using various programming or markup languages such as XML or .NET. Those who want to access the web page can do so through a web browser. For editing the content, the same can be done through
