Radical Literary Education Jeffrey Cane Robinson, 1987 The poem in the college classroom usually appears as an autonomous object to be dissected thus revealing its internal relations image patterns meter and rhyme schemes and types of figurative language Jeffrey C Robinson a college teacher for many years believes that there is a better way to teach poetry His conviction developed over many years and acted upon in his own classroom has led to a pedagogy that urges the teaching of each poem by examining it in its various contexts The result as expressed in this book is a moving exploration of the relationships among scholarship teaching and learning of critical importance to all teachers of literature as well as to those concerned with educational theory Robinson demonstrates his pedagogy with a case study the teaching of Wordsworth s Ode Intimations of Immortality from Recollections of Early Childhood He interprets the students fascinating and moving confusions and discoveries as the Ode loses its consoling aura and as their thinking takes a correspondingly more energetic critical and self reflective turn As a teacher the author whose muted autobiography itself enriches the context has had his own concerns to which this book provides some answers How would a prolonged encounter with one poem significantly alter students learning Would the poem seen in its social relations become less an object of worship and more an occasion for the students own exploration of the place of art in society and in their own education This book has emerged out of these questions As well as being a full rehearsal of the actual literary and historical contexts of Wordsworth s Ode it is a meditation on the sociology of literary education and necessarily the learning apparatus of the late adolescent
