Teaching Travel And Tourism 14+ Huggett, Cliff, Pownall, Deborah, 2010-10-01 Teaching Travel and Tourism 14 has been written in response to a perceived need in initial teacher training to address the pedagogy of vocational programmes in the field as a vocational subject It therefore focuses on theoretical approaches to teaching learning and assessment and how they can inform the way in which we plan and deliver programmes of Travel and Tourism studies It examines how we teach programmes related to preparation for working in the industry programmes such as the National Diplomas specific professional qualifications and of course the new 14 19 Diplomas It is intended to inform and stimulate to further study all likely to be involved in the development and delivery of such programmes This could include those engaged in initial teacher training whether experienced practitioners or post graduate students subject mentors now required to support new teachers experienced teachers unfamiliar with the subject who may be required to teach on these programmes and also administrators needing to familiarise themselves with the nature content and delivery of the subject as an innovation to the curriculum Therefore although initially it examines the nature of the industry and raises discussion of issues pertinent to the delivery of related vocational programmes it is essentially a useful resource book with a wealth of information about the exciting curriculum opportunities that the subject presents Through interactive exercises case studies and exemplar resources it provides the reader with a foundation of usable activities to develop a variety of teaching and learning strategies which will enhance their delivery of the Travel and Tourism curriculum Teaching Sport And Leisure 14+ Huggett, Cliff, Manley, Chris, 2010-10-01 Annotation This book has been written in response to a perceived need in initial teacher training to address the pedagogy of vocational programmes in the field as a vocational subject It is not therefore a text book on physical education but rather focuses on teaching and learning related to preparation for working in the industry The Armed Forces Covenant in action? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2013-07-18 A series of Ofsted inspections on Army Apprenticeships conducted in 2013 rated the overall effectiveness as good This was an improvement over the last inspection in 2009 rated as satisfactory now called requires improvement Some 28 per cent of Army recruits were less than 18 years of age Further information is needed on why the Army is so dependent on recruiting personnel under the age of 18 years compared to the other two Services and whether steps are being taken to reduce this dependency Of those recruited in 2012 35 per cent of the Army were rated at entry level 2 for literacy that of a 7 to 8 year old and 39 per cent had a literacy level of an eleven year old If as the MoD states it has to recruit personnel at whatever level of attainment is available then it should boost remedial action when recruitment entry standards are particularly low In light of changes brought about by Future Force 2020 it may be that recruiting personnel with higher levels of attainment would better meet the future needs of the Armed Forces Whilst the Committee recognises that some recruits may not be eager to take further academic exams the MoD should encourage more recruits to undertake English and Maths GCSEs which would stand them in good stead for future employment The MoD has carried out some useful pilot projects with paramedic training and should identify more potential projects to ensure that vital skills paid for by the MoD are not lost to the country New Directions for Experiential Learning, 1979 The Director-General's Programme of Work and Budget for ... policies on the labor market and vocational training Three forms of labor market oriented and vocational training programs were differentiated employment oriented training oriented and autonomy oriented advocacy of entrepreneurship job creation schemes Evaluation was based on three criteria resulting from the economic and social rationales behind the objectives of the schemes orientation toward the target groups assessment of output orientation allocative efficiency and form of training In the main designs of job creation programs were found to neglect the allocative aspect The weak points in the linkage between job creation schemes and vocational training were even more pronounced In the majority of programs the training function had hardly been taken into account at all Job creation schemes were seen as having great possibilities if more effective combinations of employment effects demand oriented work and vocational training were aimed at and achieved Appendixes include a list of abbreviations glossary a selected literature listing and an overview of job creation schemes YLB
