Behavioral Science & Policy: Volume 2, Issue 1 Craig Fox, Sim B. Sitkin, 2016-11-22 The success of nearly all public and private sector policies hinges on the behavior of individuals, groups, and organizations. Today such behaviors are better understood than ever thanks to a growing body of practical behavioral science research. However, policymakers often are unaware of behavioral science findings that may help them craft and execute more effective and efficient policies. The pages of this new journal will become a meeting ground, a place where scientists and non-scientists can encounter clearly described behavioral research that can be put into action. By design, the scope of BSP is broad with topics spanning health care, financial decisionmaking, energy, and the environment, education and culture, justice and ethics, and work place practices. Contributions will be made by researchers with expertise in psychology, sociology, law, behavioral economics, organization science, decision science, and marketing. The journal is a key offering of the Behavioral Science Policy Association in partnership with the Brookings Institution. The mission of BSPA is to foster dialog between social scientists, policymakers, and other practitioners in order to promote the application of rigorous empirical behavioral science in ways that serve the public interest. BSPA does not advance a particular agenda or political perspective. The first issue's contents follow: Behavioral Science Policy vol 2 no 1 Table of Contents, Editors Note, Spotlight: Pre-Kindergarten Interventions, American Policy on Early Childhood Education, Development: Many Programs, Great Hopes, Modest Prospects, Ron Haskins, Evidence for the Benefits of State Prekindergarten Programs, Myth: Misrepresentation, Dale C. Farran, Mark W. Lipsey, Reforming Head Start for the 21st Century: A Policy Prescription, Sara Mead, Ashley LiBetti, Mitchel Home Visiting Programs: Four Evidence Based Lessons for Policymakers, Cynthia Osborne, Launching Preschool 2.0: A Road Map to High Quality Public Programs at Scale, Christina Weiland, A 10 Year Strategy of Increased Coordination, Comprehensive Investments in Early Child Development, Ajay Chaudry, Jane Waldfogel, Reimagining Accountability in K-12 Education, Brian P. From the moment you share the news that you are pregnant or have a new baby, it feels like everyone becomes an expert. Did you see that headline? Did you hear that story on TV? Have you heard the latest about what they say is best? In a world overflowing with information, telling you what is best for you and your baby, making decisions can feel overwhelming. Who do you trust? Who is telling the truth? And how do you know if what they are saying is right for you? How? By becoming your own expert in sorting the media spin and politics from the actual facts and data. This isn't a book that is going to tell you which decisions to make or that there is ever one right answer. It is not going to tell you that the same thing is always best for everyone. Instead, this is a guide to help you evaluate information and evidence to decide what is right for you, your body, and your baby. In three main parts, it will firstly open your eyes to how information is shared in the media.

and how this can affect our thinking and decision making Next it will help you spot who is funding leading and promoting research and how this can affect the content of what is shared Finally it will talk you through reading understanding and evaluating evidence for yourself across topics in pregnancy birth and caring for babies You ll learn how to spot weaknesses in methods used how to determine the real risk for you and your baby and how wider context and other factors can influence what research means for you Information is power Making your own decisions that are right for you is empowering Informed is best
