Fostex DVD
TIMECODE DVD-RAM RECORDING

Removable media revolution

Having been a leading pioneer in the field of professional digital audio for over 16 years, it seemed only natural that Fostex, the inventors of timecode-DAT and portable timecode-DAT, should start the next revolution in digital recording - Timecode DVD-RAM.

REMOVABLE DVD-RAM & RECORDING FORMATS

Fostex chose DVD-RAM as the most suitable successor to DAT after extensive research and testing. DVD-RAM has excellent reliability and has already established itself as the film industry's preferred media format due to its built-in error correction and longevity. This security is enhanced by the Fostex's proprietary 'Verify/Write' technology which constantly examines the recorded data being stored on DVD-RAM, in real-time, for error-free recording. Plus, ensuring compatibility throughout the industry and maximising the DVD-RAM technology, the DV40 and PD-6 can record multiple channels of simultaneous audio (4 with the DV40 and no less than 6 with the PD-6), in a vast number of permutations and in BWF (PD-6 and DV40) or S08 (DV40 only) formats.

IN A CLASS OF THEIR OWN

With the superb audio quality, up to 24-bit / 192kHz available, the flexible and comprehensive timecode facilities and the sheer usability of both machines means that the PD-6 and DV40 are not just class leaders, they're in a class of their own.

*Options available on DVD only.
Dependent on version.

'Magless Dailies'

Sound Mixer Chris Munro pioneered and developed the 'magless dailies' concept, originally with the Fostex PD-6 timecode-DAT, and has refined it with the use of Fostex's DVD-RAM products. In fact, Chris was honoured with the Charles Parkhouse Award for his work in this area of production sound. The day's audio can be loaded into a non-linear editor such as Avid Film Composer* complete with all the automatically-generated scene, take, reel information and more in just a couple of minutes for each hour of audio directly from the DVD or PD-6 DVD-RAM disc, with no additional software! After syncing to picture, an expert to another DVD-RAM disc produces the 'daily disc'. The editor gets all his labelling done for him by the acquisition machine, along with a guide audio track, the production team watch rushes in original digital audio, and most importantly the production saves tens of thousands of dollars in no longer having to use (and store!) expensive mag stock, while wiping off hours from the edit/prep process.
