Basel IV Martin Neisen, Stefan Röth, 2018-07-26 In December 2017 the Basel committee finalised its work on the reform of the Basel III framework Together with requirements already published in 2015 and 2016 the Basel committee changes all approaches for the calculation of RWA and the corresponding Pillar III disclosure rules This package of new standards from the Basel Committee which is unofficially called Basel IV is now the most comprehensive package of modifications in the history of banking supervision The banking industry will face major challenges in implementing these new rules The second edition of the Basel IV handbook is updated with all publications up to March 2018 and also extensively enhanced with additional details examples and case studies The aim is to convince the reader that we are facing a new framework called Basel IV and not just a fine adjustment of the existing Basel III regulations This book covers all new approaches for the calculation of RWA the standardised approach CR SA and the IRB approach for credit risk the new standardised approach for counterparty credit risk SA CCR both the standardised approach and internal models approach from the fundamental review of the trading book SBA and IMA the basic approach BA CVA and standardised approach SA CVA for the CVA risk all new approaches SEC IRBA SEC ERBA SEC SA IAA for securitisations incl STS the approaches for the calculation of RWA for equity positions in investment funds LTA MBA FBA the new standardised approach for operational risk SA OpRisk Because of the strong relation to the Pillar I requirements the second edition covers the topics of interest rate risk in the banking book IRRBB large exposures and TLAC again Additionally the book contains a detailed description of the Pillar III disclosure requirements With the aid of a high profile team of experts from countries all over the globe the complexity of the topic is reduced and important support is offered

The Schenley Experiment Jake Oresick, 2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh's first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace's reinvigorated school Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America's oldest public schools

Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike

Normal Instructor and Teachers World ,1924 Sick Schools David V. Anderson,2020-01-10 Who s afraid of for profit education Those who work in non profit or government owned and operated schools Many parents and other stakeholders have been made fearful by this education establishment What s more important to humans nutrition or education Nutrition is more important because it is the prerequisite for other human activities including education What organizations provide food and who pays for the food Food is provided by for profit farmers for profit processors for profit wholesalers and for profit retailers Most food is purchased with the consumers own money but a significant amount is purchased by low income individuals using food stamps Why can t education be provided similarly using education stamps We trust for profit enterprises to provide our food Why can t we trust for profit enterprises to provide K 12 education Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for profit K 12 education sector would please and amaze its customers
