

Chapter 10: The Nervous System

1. The nervous system is responsible for coordinating and controlling all the activities of the body.

(a) What are the two main types of neurons?

Motor neurons carry signals from the brain to the muscles, and sensory neurons carry signals from the muscles to the brain.

(b) What is the function of the brain?

The brain is the central control center of the nervous system.

(c) What is the function of the spinal cord?

The spinal cord carries signals between the brain and the rest of the body. It also controls some reflex actions.

(d) What are the two main types of reflex actions?

Simple reflex actions are automatic responses to a stimulus, such as pulling your hand away from a hot object.

Complex reflex actions involve the brain. For example, you can see a snake and run away from it.
