

Guidelines for Engineering and Laboratory Reports

This document gives a guide for the format of engineering reports in general and the MCG 4340 formal lab reports in particular.

1. General Requirements

The report is to be typed on one side of standard 8 1/2 x 11" paper using an easily legible 12 point serif font (Roman or similar). Lines must be 1 1/2 or double spaced. Page margins must be 1" (25 mm) on the top, bottom and right hand side and 1 1/2" (33 mm) on the left to allow for binding. Titles should be in larger fonts and bold for emphasis. A title page must be included, and the report should be bound (not stapled). The report may be in English or French.

2. Organization

The report should be organized as follows, with the different items appearing in the order given. Chapters and sub-sections should be numbered: for example, 1, would denote a chapter, 1.1 a major section within a chapter, and 1.1.1 a subsection within the section.

Title Page

Abstract - a concise summary of the report, limited to one or two paragraphs.

Acknowledgements (if applicable - not usually part of a lab report)

Table of Contents

List of Figures

List of Tables

Nomenclature All mathematical symbols must be defined, except for very common standard ones. If only a few variables are used they may be explained in the text where they are first introduced, but if more than about a dozen symbols are required they should be defined in a separate Nomenclature section. These symbols should be listed in the following order: Latin letters, Greek letters (both in alphabetical order), other symbols, then subscripts and superscripts, again in alphabetical order. Units must be given for all dimensional variables; these units will normally be SI unless there is some particular reason for using English units. If you use many acronyms or specialized terms, provide a Glossary to define them.
