Guided Totalitarianism Case Study:

Democracy and the Post-Totalitarian Experience ,2005-01-01 This book presents the work of Polish and American philosophers about Poland's transition from Communist domination to democracy Among their topics are nationalism liberalism law and justice academic freedom religion fascism and anti-Semitism Beyond their insights into the ongoing situation in Poland these essays have broader implications inspiring reflection on dealing with needed social changes A Study Guide for Political Theories for Students: TOTALITARIANISM Gale, Cengage Learning,2015-03-13 Designed with busy students in mind this concise study guide examines major political theories and is organized into the following easily digestible sections overview history theory in depth theory in action analysis and critical response topics for further study and bibliography

Totalitarianism in the Postmodern Age Piotr Mazurkiewicz,Michal Gierycz,Krzysztof Wielecki,Mariusz Sulkowski,Marcin Zarzecki,2021-10-25 In Totalitarianism in the Postmodern Age Piotr Mazurkiewicz et al seek to answer the question whether a possible spread of pre totalitarian attitudes among youth may in the near future pose a threat to the contemporary liberal democratic societies The authors offer a new approach to the study of totalitarian trends in European societies significantly different from the previous one exploring mainly the historical and institutional procedural aspects The book not only offers interesting conclusions drawn from empirical research but also proposes an intellectually attractive theoretical model of understanding totalitarianism that can be used for further research The impulse for this reflection was the research work performed by the authors on a cohort of contemporary youths from seven countries of Central and Eastern Europe

Community After Totalitarianism Kristina Stoeckl,2008 Starting with a definition of political modernity from the angle of its greatest trial namely totalitarianism this study pursues two questions How to conceptualize community after the experience of totalitarianism And what can the Eastern Orthodox intellectual tradition contribute to this debate In both parts of Europe totalitarianism raised the same political philosophical challenge How to conceptualize the relationship between the individual and community in the light of the absolute communization of society and the simultaneous absolute atomization of individuals which totalitarianism had brought about In contemporary Western political philosophy the reflection upon this experience has taken three principled directions the unequivocal embrace and conceptual elaboration of liberalism for which the works of John Rawls and Jürgen Habermas are exemplary the communitarian critique of liberalism for which the works of Charles Taylor and Alasdair MacIntyre are representative and the postmodern critique which most clearly expressed in the works of Jean-Luc Nancy ties the question of community back to the singular human being In the present study I add to these three approaches a viewpoint which challenges the limits of all of them Focusing on the works of Sergej Horowitz and Christos Yannaras I demonstrate how these authors while accepting the lesson of totalitarianism seek foundations for their conceptualization of community and human subjectivity in the spiritual and intellectual tradition of Eastern Christianity My aim is to re think the political problematic of modernity from the East and beyond liberal communitarian and postmodern political philosophy in order to extend the interpretative space of political modernity to sharpen the problematic of community and the human subject after the experience of totalitarianism and to single out those elements which are especially pertinent for a post totalitarian philosophy of community the quality of freedom the role of practices and the meaning of tradition The Totalitarian Claim of the Gospels Dora Willson,1939

Communism in Czechoslovakia, 1948-1960 Edward Taborsky,2015-12-08 Czechoslovakia once considered Central Europe's model democracy has been a Soviet satellite since 1948 The Communists now boast that socialism has defeated capitalism politically and has surpassed it in production in living standards and in social justice How realistic is this picture of conditions in a country once oriented to the West This question is the focus of Professor Taborsky's book In attempting to answer it the author first reviews the history of the Communist Party's rise to power and then examines in detail the economic social political and cultural programs of their twelve year regime comparing stated plans with actual results through 1960 His final assessment of the Party's successes and failures measures both effort and result against the human cost Originally published in 1961 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Nazis in the Balkans Dietrich Orlow,2010-11-23

The Sudosteuropa Gesellschaft Southeast Europe Society or SOEG was founded in 1940 to formulate wartime policy in Southeast Europe its organizational life began and ended with the Third Reich In his analysis of the creation growth and death of the SOEG Dietrich Orlow focuses on the institutional behavior and power struggles of this microcosm of the Nazi system Its story is illustrative of the nature of politics in all totalitarian societies and reveals the aims and the failure of Germany's wartime exploitation of the Balkan resources and the long term economic designs for the Balkans after the Third Reich's expected victory Totalitarianism Reconsidered Ernest A. Menze,1981 Between Totalitarianism and Pluralism Alexander Dallin,1992 Kritika ,2000 Politics and Truth Theresa Man Ling Lee,1997-08-28 The political momentum gathered by the postmodernist challenge to Enlightenment ideals has made the notion of truth more central than ever in politics Postmodernism maintains that the philosophical validation of ideas by way of truth is intrinsically linked to the legitimation of power In this political context Lee considers a series of related questions Why does it matter politically how truth is validated Does the claim to having truth necessarily imply a certain claim to authority by those who possess truth Is truth therefore power Is a foundationalist notion of truth antidemocratic by implication Is a contextualist notion necessarily democratic as the postmodernists suggest Politics and Truth examines the treatment of these problems in the work of thinkers ranging from Plato and Hobbes to Weber Foucault and Arendt The book concludes with a consideration of ideology in post Mao China that shows the elusive if not illusory openness of contextualism Sociology Melvin Lawrence DeFleur, William V. D'Antonio, Lois B. DeFleur, 1981 National Union Catalog ,1963 Includes entries for maps and atlases

Newsletter on Comparative Studies of Communism ,1970 C.R.I.S.: Anthropology, applied sociology, culture, death and death rates, differentiation and stratification, group interactions ,1978 Pacific Affairs ,1978 C.R.I.S. ,1978
Studies on Korea, a Scholar's Guide Han-Kyo Kim, Hong Kyoo Park, 1980 What Went Wrong with "history from Below" Vinay Bahl, 2005
 While refuting contemporary fashionable discourse on History from below which is based on cultural determinism the author of the present volume urges scholars to use their own innate creativity as human agency collectively to build an alternative theoretical framework that can open up the possibility of creating an alternative state of being and alternative kinds of societies While suggesting one of many possible alternatives the author has attempted to reinstate in the present volume the notion of human agency as human beings innate capacity for creativity which is closely related to the concept of humaneness Author believes that such interpretation will open up the possibility of developing a new theoretical framework that will be devoid of binaries such as traditional modern core periphery progressive backward national global Based on these ideas the present volume is an attempt to show one of many possibilities of writing a history of the world from an alternative perspective derived from the experiences of the social formations cultural formations and class struggles in India The focus on India is important not merely as a local history or colonial history because it represents the historical experiences of one billion plus people with all possible historical political economic and cultural scenarios and its interactions with many other societies over time Author hopes that suggestions hypothesized in this volume might help in writing histories everywhere of women working people oppressed people oppressed societies as well as of oppressive societies from the vantage point of their own societies and their interactions with other societies without using binary terms Such history writing will allow oppressed people and oppressed societies to break away from the prevailing notion of inevitable fate about their present miserable condition and hopeless future choices as they are made to believe about the inevitability of globalization about the so called development and their consequences Indian Plans Khagendranath N.
