1. Contact A Friend in The Industry:

Before you start your career in the industry, you should already have plenty of contacts. Remember, if someone has already taken the test, and passed, they can offer a lot of information.

2. Look at State Specific Testing Information:

Different states have different testing requirements, so you should familiarize yourself with the rules of the state that you will be testing in.

3. Make an Appointment:

It may sound weird to schedule your test before you start studying, but having a date scheduled will help you develop your study plan. Depending on your state, there may be dozens of testing locations, so having an appointment will let you know how long you have to study, and you can go ahead and make your travel arrangements.

4. Find Practice Exams:

There are plenty of options when looking for practice exams, so you shouldn't struggle to find one that works for you. Try to find practice exams for your state and spend time testing yourself.

5. Take Notes:

Once you start taking practice exams, you'll get a better understanding about the areas that you need to focus on even more. Take notes about the parts that you need some work on and focus your extra time on those topics.

6. Make Flashcards:

Flashcards may remind you of studying for high school or college exams, but they're just as useful when you're prepping for your real estate exam.

7. Use Blue Ink:

There are countless scientific studies that say that blue ink is better when you're trying to remember what's in your notes. According to research, blue calms the brain which helps you experience less stress when you're trying to study.

8. Get Rest Before the Exam:

Again, depending on the state in which you're testing, you may have plenty of options when trying to find a testing location. Your mind will be better E/wprepared if you get plenty of rest the night before.
