1. Answer this question in about 30 words:

What is your dream job? Explain why you would like to have it.

2. Read the following text carefully:

My First job interview

The narrator, a disabled job-seeker who moves around in a wheelchair, is about to take his first job interview.

It is unseasonably warm for a morning in early June. Breakfast is over and is now burning a hole in my stomach. As the water, soap, and shampoo roll over my body, I go over my answers to "interview questions they always ask you." I've been assured by everyone I've talked to that these questions will come up in almost every job interview, and I've programmed carefully-crafted answers to these queries. I imagine the interviewer asking me, "What will you be doing in ten years?" I have two answers to this question. In the interview I will smile broadly and proclaim, "I shall be the information manager of a small but vital company." I know the answer I want to give. "I hardly know what I'll be doing next week, let alone in the next decade!" But this might be perceived as hostility and a lack of vision and goals on my part. Better stick to the safe answer. (. . .)

As I roll in, my heart is pounding, my antiperspirant is breaking down and I have a great urge to vomit. In short, everything's on course. I feel like a first-time job candidate. "Sit right over here, Mr Williams. I'll tell Mr Brown you're here," declares the secretary. I watch her fade into a distant office. The space I'm sitting in is enormous. Long shelves of books and other materials stand in rows throughout the room, and at the head of it all there is a large desk where the smartly dressed woman sits and keeps watch over everything. (. . .)

Mr Brown keeps looking at my résumé, he seems to be searching for something to say. I wait for the first question, but it never comes. Finally, he asks me about a professor I may have had at the university, and at that moment it all comes crashing down on me. I realize that Mr Brown is not going to interview me. There will be no summer internship for me; no foot in the door, no opportunity to prove myself in a paid position. It will be an endless summer of pain and self-hatred. I am filled with rage, but there's nowhere to put it. Quiet civility and a quick exit seem the best course. I turn around and head out the door. There are no protests from Mr Brown, no inquiries into why I'm leaving. There is only the sound of my wheelchair moving softly across the carpet. The smartly dressed woman rushes over and holds open the heavy portals.

Out on the street, I find myself filled with the hot breath of shame. I want to cry, but there's nothing to do but hold my head up high and get in the van for the long ride home.

In the months that follow, I wait for a letter of rejection. It never comes.

Perhaps my first job interview would have been very different had I been as confident as I am now. I just don't know, but I do know that I remember the humiliation and pain of that first job interview more than 20 years ago as though it had occurred yesterday.
