

3.2.2. Pencil Lines

Pencil lines shall be opaque and of uniform width throughout their length.

The line widths which are specified for ink lines do not apply to pencil lines. Cutting and viewing plane lines are the thickest lines on the drawing. However, the thick lines used for outlines and other visible lines shall be sufficiently prominent to immediately differentiate them from lines used for other purposes. Hidden, sectioning, center, phantom, extension, dimension, and leader lines shall be thinner than outlines. In selecting the widths of pencil lines, consideration shall be given to the medium of reproduction involved to ensure proper reproduction and reduction of the thinner lines.

3.2.3. Types of Lines

3.2.3.1. Center Lines

Center lines shall be composed of long and short dashes, alternately and evenly spaced, with a long dash at each end. Center lines shall cross without voids. See Figure 5, below, and Figure 6, page 28.

Very short center lines may be unbroken if there is no confusion with other lines. Center lines shall also be used to indicate the travel of a center. See Figure 6 on page 28.
