

Study Guide: Answer Key

Chapter 7: DNA Structure and Replication

Biologically Unique: How DNA helped free an innocent man

Driving Question 1:

What is the function of DNA, and how is DNA organized in cells?

Why should you care?

DNA is the hereditary molecule—passed from parents to offspring—that serves as the instruction manual for “building” each individual. DNA is found in the nucleus of almost every cell in our body. Forensic scientists can, therefore, collect DNA evidence from many different types of crime scene evidence, such as semen, saliva, skin cells, blood, and hair. This DNA can then be used to positively identify a perpetrator or exonerate accused suspects of a crime.

Roy Brown was convicted by junk science, the only “evidence” linking him to the crime was his teeth, and bite mark analysis is notoriously unreliable. Other types of physical evidence, such as hair samples examined under a microscope, are also problematic because they are not distinct enough to positively identify the individual from which they come. DNA is valuable in forensics because it is unique to each individual. DNA’s structure is the key to its uniqueness in each individual.

What should you know?

To fully answer this Driving Question, you should be able to:

1. Describe the origin and function of DNA.
2. Describe the location of DNA in eukaryotic cells.
3. Describe the structure of chromosomes.
4. Describe the number and origin of the chromosomes in human cells.

Infographic Focus:

The infographics most pertinent to the Driving Question are 7.1 and 7.2.

Test Your Vocabulary:

Match these terms to their definitions:

[DEOXYRIBONUCLEIC ACID (DNA)] The molecule of heredity, common to all life forms, that is passed from parents to offspring.

[CHROMOSOME] A single, large DNA molecule wrapped around proteins.

Chromosomes are located in the nuclei of most eukaryotic cells.

[NUCLEOTIDES] The building blocks of DNA. Each nucleotide consists of a sugar, a phosphate, and a base. The sequence of nucleotides (As, Cs, Gs, Ts) along a DNA strand is unique to each person.

1. Describe the origin and function of DNA.

science education is now an international activity This book asks for the first time Does this research activity have an identity
It uses the significant studies of more than 75 researchers in 15 countries to see to what extent they provide evidence for an identity as a distinctive field of research It considers trends in the research over time and looks particularly at what progression in the research entails It provides insight into how researchers influence each other and how involvement in research affects the being of the researcher as a person It addresses the relation between research and practice in a manner that sees teaching and learning in the science classroom as interdependent with national policies and curriculum traditions about science It gives graduate students and other early researchers an unusual overview of their research area as a whole
