later editions and translations Mr Wheaton's early familiarity with the jurisprudence and foreign relations of the United States his long experience in diplomacy his intimate acquaintance with European languages and foreign diplomatic writers entitles his writings upon International Law to more than ordinary consideration His works enjoy the highest reputation for the soundness of their views and the learning and research displayed in illustrating the various topics discussed Marvin Legal Bibliography 1847 728 citing third edition On his own merits Wheaton is clearly entitled to rank among the classics Like Grotius he embodied a happy combination of profound scholarship with a wide experience of diplomatic and public life and his work further resembles that of Grotius in that it cannot be classified under the conventional labels of any doctrinal system His insistence upon the fundamental principles of natural law is balanced by his analysis of practice as an immediate source
