

What I Learned

What to Do

Have your child look at the picture below. Ask, How many puppies are there? (10) Then ask your child how many balls are on the shelves. (6) Have your child draw 3 more balls on top of the shelf. Ask, Now how many balls are there? (9)

What to Do Next

As you go about your daily routine, encourage your child to count items up to 10. For example, when baking cookies, have your child help you count 3 eggs, 2 cups of flour, 4 tablespoons of fat, or 10 cookies.

WEEK 2 Home-School Connection

Math Concepts: Counting how many are in a set.

To Parents: This week your child is learning to count 10 or fewer items in a set.

Unit 3

Concept

Each number has a name and a symbol.

Name the Number

Math Objective

To help students recognize and name numbers 0 through 10.

Math Vocabulary

zero, one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten

Day 1 Goals

Number Sense

- Apply one-to-one correspondence when counting.
- Understand the relationship between numbers and quantities.
- Recognize the number that represents a quantity.
- Associate each number with one name.

Literacy

Oral Language Development

- Respond orally to simple questions.
- Use number words.

Comprehension

- Make connections among illustrations, oral language, or text to comprehend.
- Listen to a story being read aloud.
- Answer questions about key details in a text read aloud.

Introducing the Concept

Display a number line that begins with 0 and ends with 10. Then say:

- This is a number line. A number line has numbers on it. The numbers are in counting order. The number 0 means "none." For example, I am holding 0 pieces of candy.
- Each number has a name. Name the numbers with me: 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10.

Continue the lesson by calling out numbers between 0 and 10 and having volunteers come up and point to them on the number line. Then trace each number with your finger, and have students use their fingers to form each number in the air.

Listening to the Story

Distribute the Day 1 activity page to each student. Say: I will read a story about 10 forest animals. Listen and look at the picture as I read.

Ten forest animals are ready to race. Each animal wears a different number on its T-shirt. Owl wears the number 0. Duck wears number 1. What could be more fun? Wolf is proud to see that he wears number 2. Rabbit gets his kicks by being number 3. Frog wears number 4, this morning he looks great! Squirrel is in heaven with her number 7. Bear, who lives in a den, wears the number 10. The race is starting. Get ready, get set, go!

Confirming Understanding

Distribute crosses. Drawing the math concept by asking questions about the picture. Ask:

- Who is wearing the number 2? (Wolf)
Draw an X on Wolf.
- Who is wearing the number 0? (Owl)
Circle Owl.
- What number means "none" or "nothing"?
(0) Who is wearing the number 0? (Owl)

Compare asking students to identify what number each animal is wearing. (Owl: 0, Squirrel, 7, Fox, 9, Mouse, 5, Deer, 2, Bear, 10, Duck, 1, Frog, 4)
