Incentives and Test-Based Accountability in Public Education,2011-11-18 In recent years there have been increasing efforts to use accountability systems based on large scale tests of students as a mechanism for improving student achievement The federal No Child Left Behind Act NCLB is a prominent example of such an effort but it is only the continuation of a steady trend toward greater test based accountability in education that has been going on for decades Over time such accountability systems included ever stronger incentives to motivate school administrators teachers and students to perform better Incentives and Test Based Accountability in Education reviews and synthesizes relevant research from economics psychology education and related fields about how incentives work in educational accountability systems The book helps identify circumstances in which test based incentives may have a positive or a negative impact on student learning and offers recommendations for how to improve current test based accountability policies The most important directions for further research are also highlighted For the first time research and theory on incentives from the fields of economics psychology and educational measurement have all been pulled together and synthesized Incentives and Test Based Accountability in
