Sexuality and Gender at Home Brent Pilkey,Rachael M. Scicluna,Ben

Campkin, Barbara Penner, 2017-05-18 Sexuality and Gender at Home is the first book to explore the meanings and experiences of home through the framework of sexuality. Looking at a broad spectrum of sexuality, gender, and domesticity, it examines the many ways in which home is constructed, performed, and experienced in relation to sexuality and gender. Considering identity issues such as age, class, ethnicity, and gender, the authors problematize intimacy and question conventional ways of thinking about allegedly private home space. Comprehensive introductions to each of the book's three sections on Intimacy and Home, Queering Home, and Beyond Home provide a coherent overview of the existing literature as well as additional historical and cultural context. Fourteen chapters present ground-breaking research and insights into sexuality, gender, and home across culture, time, and space. Written by academics from a range of subject disciplines, chapters are based on research covering countries including Australia, France, Sweden, the UK, the USA, Guyana, Israel, and Singapore. This highly original text is the ideal starting point for anyone wishing to get to grips with the emerging field of sexuality, gender, and home and will particularly appeal to researchers and students in anthropology, architecture, gender studies, sociology, and human geography.

Peacebuilding and Friction Annika Björkdahl, Kristine Höglund, Gearoid Millar, Jair van der Lijn, Willemijn Verkoren, 2016-03-02 This book aims to understand the processes and outcomes that arise from frictional encounters in peacebuilding when global and local forces meet. Building a sustainable peace after violent conflict is a process that entails competing ideas, political contestation, and transformation of power relations. This volume develops the concept of friction to better analyse the interplay between global ideas, actors, and practices and their local counterparts. The chapters examine efforts undertaken to promote sustainable peace in a variety of locations such as Cambodia, Sri Lanka, Afghanistan, and Sierra Leone. These case analyses provide a nuanced understanding, not simply of local processes or of the hybrid or mixed agencies, ideas, and processes that are generated, but of the complex interactions that unfold between all of these elements in the context of peacebuilding intervention. The analyses demonstrate how the ambivalent relationship between global and local actors leads to unintended and sometimes counterproductive results of peacebuilding interventions. The approach of this book, with its focus on friction as a conceptual tool, advances the peacebuilding research agenda and adds to two ongoing debates in the peacebuilding field: the debate on hybridity and the debate on local agency and local ownership. In analysing frictional encounters, this volume prepares the ground for a better understanding of the mixed impact peace initiatives have on post-conflict societies. This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding, conflict resolution, security studies, and international relations in general.
