The Saldanha Bay Industrial Development Zone is situated in the West Coast region of the Western Cape, approximately 2 hours' drive north of Cape Town. Over the past decade, the development of South Africa's oil and gas resources and the rapid growth of opportunities in West Africa have led to growth in demand for oil and gas storage and processing industries, and the Saldanha Bay is best positioned with the largest and deepest natural port in the southern hemisphere. With its location and its coordinated supply chain, the SBDIZ is set to become the centralised provider of bulk parts and services to the industry, home to boundless opportunities as an oil, gas and maritime repair services hub.
